JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.

ESTABLISHED 1837.

JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1894.

VOLUME 58.

W. F. ALDRICH, candidate for congress in the Fourth District, is a life-long Republican. He was nominated as a Republican by a Republican convention. The Republican convention which nominated him was called by a Republican negro from Dallas by the name of C. H. Walker. The name of Aldrich was put in nomination by a Republican negro by the name of Bill Stevens of Calhoun. The nomination was seconded by a Republican negro from Dallas by the name of W. C. Grove.

THERE never has been a time when it was so important for the conservative men of Alabama to come together as now. The interests of Alabama, the interests of the South, demand that all prejudice, all malice, be relegated; that the people assert their manhood and rise above these base passions and do that which is best for the country. We are now confronted by conditions which Senator Morgan and others predicted would exist as soon as the United States adopted the single gold standard. We see the cotton crop being forced upon the market and sold at five cents a pound. This price for cotton, with a debt hanging over nearly every farmer in the South, with the interest necessary to be paid for money, means ruin to the South and all her interests. The only way to correct the evil which has been inflicted upon the people of this country by unwise legislation, is for the conservative men to get together and make a determined fight for home and country. That one-half of those now inside the organization of the Democratic party are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and of an increase in the amount of our circulating medium sufficiently to transact the business of the country, was clearly demonstrated in the vote given to Capt. Joseph F. Johnston for Governor. These men are yet determined. They did not give up the fight when Captain Johnston was defeated for Governor. Neither has Captain Johnston relaxed his efforts for the measures which are to the interest of the people. The fight is still on inside the organization of the Democratic party.

That which is necessary to win the fight in Alabama for free silver, more money, better price for cotton, increased values for all our possessions, is for the conservative men among the Jeffersonians to unite with the conservative men who are making the fight inside the organization of the Democratic party.

We now have the best basis for this union of the conservative men in Alabama that we have had for years. In several of the congressional Districts, the fight for congress is a straight contest between Republicans and Democrats. The lines being thus drawn affords the best opportunity in the world for the conservative Jeffersonians to unite with the conservative men in the Democratic party. Under the recent ruling of the state executive committee, all those who vote for the Democratic nominee for congress will be qualified to participate in the primaries in the next State election. This is the opportunity for the free silver men in Alabama to place themselves in position to crush the life out of the sentiment in Alabama in favor of the single gold standard, by electing free silver men to every position to which they aspire in the next general election.

MORE interest is being taken in the raising of horses, mules, cattle and hogs in this country than for years past, and we believe that much good would result from the organization of a Live Stock Association, where those interested in raising stock would be brought together monthly or quarterly to discuss the best plans and treatment of all live stock. Such an exchange of opinion and recital of experience could not fail to result in good to every farmer in the country.

Our Tax Assessor.

We are under obligations to our very worthy and efficient tax assessor Mr. B. G. McClellen, for the comparative statement of returns of taxable property for the year 1893 and 1894.

Mr. McClellen is a very painstaking and worthy official. He is making as efficient assessor as the county has probably ever had.

Messengers to Association.

The Calhoun County Baptist Association meets with the Oxford Baptist church on Thursday before the second Sunday in this month, and the Jacksonville Baptist church elected the following messengers last Sunday to represent it at the association: Rev. M. H. Lane, D. D., Hon. James Crook, Dr. T. W. Ayers, Messrs. J. Y. Henderson and S. G. Wright.

Quarterly Conference.

The last quarterly conference for the present year will be held at the Methodist church here today and tomorrow. Dr. Slaughter who has been the Presiding Elder on this district for the past four years, will preach his farewell sermon Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

During his four years work on this district, Dr. Slaughter has made many friends, and he will carry with him to his new home next year the best wishes of all our people.

Colt Show.

It has been suggested that we arrange and have a colt show in Jacksonville during the month of November.

We think this a wise suggestion. The people of the county are taking more interest in raising both horses and mules than they have for years before, and to have an exhibition here of the fine horse and mule colts which are to be seen in all portions of the county, would no doubt have the effect of stimulating the people of the county to greater efforts in raising good stock.

In connection with the exhibition of the colts, that is a good day to organize a Live Stock Association. Such an organization by having monthly or quarterly meetings for its members to exchange ideas as to raising horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats and hogs, would no doubt prove very beneficial to the live stock interest of the county.

Let some of our people who feel an interest in raising good stock take this matter in charge.

Assignment.

Mess. Hammond & Crook, who have been a general mercantile business in Jacksonville for a number of years, made an assignment last Saturday to Ross W. Whisenant for the benefit of their creditors.

The financial embarrassment of this firm is caused by a failure to collect money due them, and to a falling off of trade.

The assignment is a perfectly honorable one, and our people hope that these gentlemen in a very short while will make a satisfactory arrangement with their creditors, and will resume business and regain whatever money they have lost.

The past two years have been exceedingly trying on all business houses who had sold goods on a credit and had their money in the country, and is really surprising that more failures have not been recorded than have.

We learn from Dr. Linder that a fine alum spring has been discovered out at Schenck's springs.

ALL the legislation of the Republican party is in favor of the wealthy class, and the people of the north and east. Its conventions speak of the income tax as "a tax on prosperity," and raise a howl because it is feared the discrimination against the South will be checked.

Public Speaking.

Hon. W. F. Aldrich, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fourth District, and P. G. Bowman Esq., of Birmingham, addressed a small audience of Calhoun county people in the court house in Jacksonville last Monday.

Mr. Aldrich was introduced by General J. W. Burke. The greater portion of his speech was devoted to a discussion of the tariff. He is thoroughly in accord with the Republican party on the tariff question. He attempted to show that it was even to the interest of the people of the South to have a high tariff. To our mind he showed conclusively that it was to the interest of the classes in New England to have a high tariff, but as we saw his argument, he utterly failed to show where it was to the interest of the farmers of the South to be forced to pay a tax of from thirty to one hundred per cent on all they buy.

One argument which he used in favor of a high tariff was that it increased the purchasing power of a dollar. Just so. That's exactly what the people of New England want, and what the people of the South do not want. Whenever you increase the purchasing power of a dollar, you lessen the value of all our possessions in the South. This may suit a rich mine owner like Mr. Aldrich, but does not suit the farmers of the Fourth District who are in debt.

At the close of his speech, Mr. Aldrich said he was in favor of the free coinage of silver, but did not discuss the silver question, or say anything as to what ratio he favored. Even John Sherman will say that he favors the free coinage of silver.

At the close of Mr. Aldrich's speech, P. G. Bowman Esq., of Birmingham, was introduced, and made a brief, good natured speech.

CALHOUN'S WEALTH.

REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY RETURNED FOR TAXES.

Total Value for 1894 Only About 8 per cent Less Than 1893.

There has been such a shrinkage in values for the past twelve months that it was expected there would be a heavy decrease in the amount of property in Calhoun returned to the tax assessor as compared with the return for 1893; but the assessor's book is now complete, and in footings up, it is found that the total shrinkage as returned amounts only to about eight per cent.

Believing that the people of the county will be interested in a study of the returns for this year, as compared with last year, we give the following comparative returns by beats:

Total value of both real and personal for 1891, $9,161,510. For 1893, $9,916,826. Making a decrease for 1891 of $785,286.

Total amount of State and county tax for 1894, $82,453.86. For 1893, $87,821.43.

The large decrease in the value of personal property in beat 15, and the large increase in beat one, is due to the fact that the railroad property in this county was returned in beat 15 last year, and in beat one this year.

It is well known that during the past twelve months there has been a great shrinkage in values, and we think Calhoun is to be congratulated upon the fact that the total value of her property is within eight per cent as great as last year, and it is to be reasonably hoped that in 1895, the returns will be even greater than in 1893.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the leading Republican paper west of the Mississippi river says:

"The Republican party has scored a big success in Alabama by practically swallowing the Jeffersonian or Kolbite party and the Populists."

This Republican sheet will see after the sixth of November that it is mistaken by a very large majority. While the Republican party has swallowed Bowman, Skaggs, and a few of the leaders in the State that they have succeeded in delivering the Jeffersonians who are fighting for principle can never be delivered into the camp of their old enemy—the Republican party.

The Teachers' Institute.

It was with much pleasure that the Calhoun county Institute met again greeted over the friends of the work. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Liston, after which the Institute proceeded to organize.

The meeting having been called after such short notice, there was no regular program so the Superintendent proceeded to arrange by consulting teachers upon topics they would like to discuss for the evening and for Saturday morning.

Prof. O. B. Bynum read before the Institute an essay upon the "Duties of a County Teacher," stating in a clear and forcible manner the responsibilities of a teacher in the influence he exerts. Prof. Bynum emphasized the fact that the teacher should instill into the pupil the great principles of Christianity and morality, and that he should by no means neglect that culture of the heart which is so necessary an element in the development of true manhood and womanhood.

Other valuable remarks were made upon this subject, not the least of which were by Mrs. Read in her experience as a country teacher.

And it may be well to remark here the Institute is much gratified that the lady teachers are coming to the front in the discussions of the questions before the house. And to Mrs. Read would it extend expressions of special appreciation, and accord to her the honor of being the first to take a prominent part in the discussions of principles before the house. If the other lady teachers will follow the example, there is no reason why ours should not be the banner institute of the State.

The next subject commanding the special attention of the Institute was the able exponent of the "Principles of Penmanship" by Prof. Hudson.

There being no further business the Institute adjourned to meet at 8 p. m.

The evening session being a memorial service in memory of Professors Wright and Eaddy and of Mrs. Rosa Anderson, a special prayer was offered by Rev. W. B. Witherspoon. Some fitting resolutions were offered by Prof. Forney and adopted, in regard to wearing crepe for our deceased members.

Prof. Forney read a short account of the life of Maj. Wright and concluded with appropriate remarks upon this distinguished gentleman.

In memory of Mrs. Anderson Prof. Treadaway made some touching remarks.

Prof. Bynum and Wright read papers in favor of Prof. Eaddy.

After the appointment of committees to draw up resolutions upon the death of Prof. Eaddy and Mrs. Anderson, to be published in the Jacksonville REPUBLICAN, the meeting adjourned for the night. After the opening of the Saturday morning exercises were over, the Institute was treated to an interesting and instructive lecture by Rev. W. B. Witherspoon upon the subject, "Patriotism in our public Schools." The chair appointed the following teachers as an Executive Committee. Messrs. Forney, Ellenburgh, Evans, and Mrs. Read and Miss Swan.

It is the duty of this committee to supply programs for each institute during the year. It was agreed that two should constitute a quorum.

After expressing regrets that the Runday Amendment failed to pass at the last election, Mr. Witherspoon offered resolutions to the effect that the next Legislature be memorialized by matter sent out from this institute to submit the amendment to the people again.

At the suggestion of Prof. Forney the Institute voted expressions of thanks to Supt. Miller for his ardent and devoted services to the cause of education in our county, and then adjourned sine die.

LEN GREER.

A JEFFERSONIAN AND NOT A REPUBLICAN.

He Will Not Support Aldrich, the Republican Candidate for Congress.

Mr. L. F. Greer, who was one of the nominees on the Jeffersonian ticket in Calhoun this year for representative, who is a member of the Jeffersonian State Executive Committee, who is member of the Jeffersonian Congressional Executive Committee of the Fourth District, who presided over the recent Populist convention in Calera which endorsed W. F. Aldrich for congress, who was member of Aldrich's campaign committee, after due reflection has reached the conclusion, that nearly all the men in this District who are Jeffersonian Democrats from principle will reach that he cannot "unite in striking down the white man's party in Alabama and to install into power and into office a party that has been a stigma and disgrace in all Southern climes for these thirty years."

Mr. Greer in making known his determination to not go into the Republican camp, addresses the following many letter to his friends and supporters in the recent State election:

DEAR FRIENDS: A. L. A., Oct. 1. To my friends and supporters in the State election:

Owing to circumstances which I could not prevent I am forced to address you this open letter. For many months it has been charged by the newspaper dispatches that the Jeffersonians and Populists would hand soul and body into the Republican camp, which has always been promptly denied by our people. That they had some grounds for these charges no one can deny, but they themselves did not expect so early to see the three combined into one political party to unite in striking down the white man's party in Alabama and to install into power and into office a party that has a stigma and disgrace in all Southern climes for these thirty years. My actions in the past have been from pure motives. I have advocated what I believed to be right. But I can not follow further the stranger's voice. As a Populist I could, and would have given Mr. Aldrich my hearty support, but as Republican I cannot, and will not do so. When our State executive committee decided to give the Republicans three districts and they keep six, I entered then a written protest against being bartered away in any such manner, and told them then that the people would repudiate all such methods, and they would receive at the polls in November that which they so richly merit, an overwhelming defeat. It is true that after that I allowed myself to be persuaded into further action which in my heart I did not endorse. For it is not an easy thing to pull one's self loose from a people with whom you have been so closely connected through three such campaigns as we have had in Alabama. And it is a hard thing for me to do so now, but I have always conducted myself in such a manner as to merit and win the respect even of those who were opposed to me politically. But I could not retain my self-respect even much less theirs were I to be a party in leading my people into the Republican party. If you are ready for that step I am not. And I ask you to stop and think, count up the cost, and see if you are willing for your little ones in after years to know that you deserted the Southern banner and fought under the banner of Northern Republicanism. As to my future action, time alone can tell. However for the present, it depends largely upon the next Democratic convention. There are two extremes, Goldbug, Clevehead Democracy and Aldrich Republicanism; and there is a happy medium, a free silver 16 to 1 Democracy who believes that this government is capable of attending to its affairs.

For the sake of the South and Southern politics I hope such a man may be nominated. In this fight, it is a straight fight, choose between the two, Southern Democracy or Northern Republicanism. Allow me to return thanks to each and every person who gave me their support, the humblest as well as the most exalted, and let me say in conclusion that on the principles we fought the last campaign that I can go with you forever, but into the Republican camp, never!

Very truly and sincerely yours,
L. F. GREER.

Col. H. ATKINSON has been elected President of the Anniston City Land Company, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Col. McClellan.

The nomination of Senator Hill has thoroughly aroused the Democracy of New York, and the Democrats have gone to work with a determination and enthusiasm that will win.

EVER the men who are strongest in favor of the single gold standard will tell you that they are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, but when you pin them down upon the ratio, they invariably dodge. It is free silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 which this country needs.

We notice in a special from Mr. Ford that Dr. Groce says he cannot be delivered to the support of Aldrich for congress in this District. The men of the age of Dr. Groce, who have fought so many battles against the Republican party, have no idea now of turning and kissing the hand which has smote them every year since the war.

THERE is no less demand for cotton now than in former years. It is not that the people have a sufficient amount of cotton goods that causes the price to drop down to five cents a pound. Oh no! this is not the cause. Nothing accounts for this low price but the abolition of silver, which formerly furnished the people with more than half their primary money.

It is New England which is profited by a high tariff which robs the people of the earnings of their labor. It is the high tariff which has cut the per capita of money in Alabama down to about three dollars, and increased it in some of the New England states to fifty, seventy-five and a hundred dollars.

It is unquestionably the worst form of class legislation ever known to the American people.

We had a very pleasant call last Monday from our esteemed friend Jess T. Vinson, of beat fourteen. In course of our conversation with him, he stated that he was from principle a Jeffersonian Democrat; and that when approached by one of his neighbors a few days since who had circulars in the interest of the Republican candidate for congress in this District, he stated to his neighbor that he gave four of the best years of his life in defending the South, that he well remembered the dark days of reconstruction, and that he would not for one moment consider the proposition of casting his ballot for a lifelong Republican for congress.

This Republican party has always been an enemy to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. It was by a solid Republican vote in congress that silver was demonetized in 1876. Every Democrat on that occasion voted against the demonetization of silver. It was by a practically solid Republican vote in both the House and Senate that the unconditional repeal of the Sherman bill was accomplished. The stoppage of the coinage of silver is a measure for which the Republican party has fought since its organization. The Democratic party has always been the friend and champion of silver. It is still its friend, and the Democrats who fell into the John Sherman trap in the last congress did not represent the Democratic people.

THE FEN IN

THE MYSTERY OF A HANSON CASE

Francis said, "I'm repeating my thoughts aloud, 'ave Francis. I wonder if he has left the inn also or whether he has overstepped himself and is still in his room? To make sure, I went up stairs to his bedroom. I observed that all this time I had not connected these things with crime. It is true I had a faint suspicion that there might possibly be some foul play, but as there was nothing to confirm such a belief I abandoned the idea. I declare that when I knocked at the door of Briarfield's room I had no more idea of the horrible truth than the babe unborn. My precautions pointed to mystery, but not to murder. Yet from the conversation of the previous night I might have guessed what had happened. The house was as frequented as the palace of the Artiste, and the door was not locked, and even when I had tried the door I should have found it open. Then they took shape in an instant. I tried the door. It was locked. On the land I glanced at the clock. It was ten o'clock. I still hinted at suspicious behavior. My knocking echoed loudly through the stillness. At that moment there flashed before my eyes the picture of two figures flying across a red horizon against which blackened the beams of a galloping. It was the shadow of the future. I knocked, I called his name, and finally in desperation at the continued silence I set my shoulder against the heavy door. It yielded with a tearing sound and I entered the room amid a cloud of fine dust.

He was lying on the bed stiff and cold. I had no need to call, to touch his shoulder, to place my hand on his heart. He was dead. With the clothes drawn up smoothly to his chin lay the man with whom I had conversed the previous night. The right arm lay outside the counterpane. On the hand glinted a pearl ring. I looked at that double. I glanced at the waxen face. The matter was beyond all doubt. Francis Briarfield was dead.

Before I could further examine the body or the room I was forced to run for my life. For the moment I was deadly sick, and it needed a long draft of the fiery spirit to speed the stagnating blood through my veins. The strange circumstance was a sufficient apology for such qualms. This lonely inn set on a handbreadth of living ground amid quaking bays, this dead body of what had once been a friend, this solitude by which I found myself environed, these were sufficient to shake the strongest nerve. I look in a manner prosaic on black and white, but think of the horror of the actual experience.

For the moment I could formulate no ideas on the subject. That my friend should be dead was sufficient to stun me. When reason came back, I asked myself how he died and who was responsible for the crime. The landlord, the maid, the brother, one of these three had murdered Francis Briarfield. But in what way?

I examined the body. It was clothed in a nightgown, and the clothes lay folded up on the chair by the bedside. The face was calm; there were no marks of violence on the face or on the frame. Only on the violet lips lingered a slight curl of foam. The smooth bedclothes drawn up to the chin hid the idea of a struggle. I looked at the right arm lying on the counterpane, at the hand, and there in the palm was a ragged wound from thumb to little finger. It was discolored at the edges and looked green and unwholesome. This livid appearance made me think of poison, but I was not sufficiently a doctor to diagnose the case correctly. Yet I was certain of one thing: that Francis Briarfield had come to his death in some foul fashion, and that at the hands of whom?

Aye, there was the rub! So far as I knew, the landlord had no motive to commit such a crime. Suspicion pointed toward the maid who had wished to speak with the dead man after supper. Yet why should she desire his death? From the lips of Francis Briarfield I had heard that he knew neither Street nor Rose, nor indeed ought of the Fen inn. Either he had been brought by his brother's letter to keep an appointment and was as ignorant of the inn or its inmates, or its surroundings as I.

Could Felix have committed this crime? True, if my theory were correct and he had passed himself off to Olivia Bellin as Francis, there were some grounds for believing he wished his brother out of the way. Francis would undoubtedly refuse to permit the deception to be carried on, so it was just possible that Felix, in a frenzy of wrath and terror at the idea of his treachery being exposed, might have slain his brother. Yet all this fine theory was upset by the fact that Felix had not arrived on the previous night to keep the appointment. He therefore must be guilty.

If so, what of the landlord and his daughter? Certainly they had no reason to slay a stranger who had slain

He was lying on the bed stiff and cold, under their roof for the night. Yet their flight looked suspicious. If they were innocent, why did they leave the inn?

Another question prominent with me was the reason of their being alone in the inn. I had seen no servants either indoors or out. Father and daughter appeared to do all the work. It was beyond all reason that they should have no assistance. Where was the

Run Down With DYSPEPSIA STOMACH Liver AND HEART

AYER'S PILLS

For fifteen years, I was a great sufferer from indigestion in its worst form. I tried the advice of many doctors, but grew worse and worse, until I became so weak I could not walk fifty yards without having to sit down and rest. My stomach, liver, and heart became affected, and I thought I would surely die. I tried Ayer's Pills and they helped me right away. I continued their use and am now entirely well. I don't know of anything that will so quickly relieve and cure the terrible suffering of dyspepsia, as Ayer's Pills. J. C. PARTRIDGE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN.

"ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY."

ESTABLISHED 1837.

JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1894.

VOLUME 53

Now that the issue is clear and unmistakable between the Republican and Democratic parties in this Congressional District, there is no place, no opportunity for the time-server, the straddler, the trimmer. On the 6th day of November next, the voters are to say whether they believe in a centralized government wherein the rights and sovereignty of the States are subordinate to federal power; or in one wherein the rights of the individual and his equality under the laws are paramount, and the federal constitution held to be a "special grant of limited powers."

The Republican party comes to the people as the exponent of trusts, monopolies, and combines, created and fostered by that most unjust and inequitable of all public policies—protection; as the author of enormous pension appropriations from a depleted public treasury; as the creator of a financial system that has brought commercial distress in its wake; as the advocate of a policy of oppression and vindictiveness towards the South.

On the other hand, the Democratic party, beginning with a legacy of Republican ills, after a brief rule, presents a tariff law which greatly reduces the cost of the necessities of life, while raising a revenue for governmental purposes, and which recognizes the truth that each should contribute to the maintenance of the government in proportion to his ability to pay, by levying a tax on the incomes of the wealthy. It has shown its unfriendliness to the abuse of trust and corporate power by the enactment of the most strenuous laws, regulating and restraining them. Forgetting sectional lines and mindful alone of merit, it has been most liberal and patriotic in recognition and treatment of the South. When the history and the public acts of the two parties are considered, it will not take the voters of the District long to decide to which they will throw their support.

The Age-Herald in discussing the new tariff bill, gives the following statement of an item in which Alabama will derive benefit from it:

"Coal from the Birmingham district has been shipped to Cuba and sold under the coal from any other country. But the profit has not been so large as it should have been, because of the excessive shipping rate. This rate was exorbitant, because it was not profitable to bring back a return cargo of Cuban exports on account of the high protective rates of the McKinley law. But now that the McKinley law has been repealed and the more equal democratic law substituted, it becomes profitable to bring back a cargo from Cuba to this country."

Already a party of Birmingham capitalists has been quick to see this advantage, and is now perfecting arrangements to establish a line of steamers between Mobile and Cuba. These gentlemen are men of enterprise, energy and means, and know no such word as fail. The Southern Railway Company is interested with them, and will utilize its leased line, the Birmingham and Mobile railroad, which runs through the heart of the coal fields.

This line of steamers will be largely used in exporting the coal of the new mines to be opened in Walker County."

Hox. W. Y. ATKINSON, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Georgia, defeated Hines, the Populist candidate, by a majority of 26,000 votes, in the recent elections of that State. The rest of the Democratic State ticket got 50,000 majority. In the State Legislature which meets Oct. 24th, the Democrats will have a majority of 123 in the House, and 37 in the Senate.

DAVID B. HILL has accepted the nomination for Governor of New York at the hands of the Democrats of that State; and there appears to be great confidence that he can bring together and harmonize the factions and discordant elements of the party. With this effected, the Democrats of the Empire State can look hopefully and with satisfaction to the result, which can mean nothing but a great Democratic victory.

THE TICKET COMPLETED.

AND DAVID B. HILL, DANIEL LOCKWOOD AND CHAS. F. BROWN.

Are the Party Leaders of the Empire State Democracy in the Struggle for Good Government.

New York, Oct. 6.—The uncertainty regarding the democratic ticket in this state has at length been removed, and the following ticket will take the field in the coming election:

For governor, David Bennett Hill of Elmira; for lieutenant-governor, Daniel Lockwood of Buffalo; court of appeals, Judge Charles F. Brown of Newburg.

This result was accomplished after a conference lasting all day, in which the members of the state committee, Senator Hill and the leaders of the party from all over state participated.

Nearly all the members of the democratic state committee assembled at the Park Avenue hotel at 11 o'clock to day. They found very little to do, however, but wait, as the leaders of the party were holding a conference in the hotel in regard to the filling of the third place on the ticket.

The committee finally adjourned until 4 o'clock.

Shortly after 5 o'clock, at which hour the state committee was again in session, Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan announced that the committee would nominate Judge Chas. F. Brown of Newburg for judge of the court of appeals. This was the result of the all day conference between the leaders.

The committee went into session at 5 o'clock and at 5:30 it finished its labors. It was then announced that Judge Charles F. Brown had been unanimously nominated for the vacant place on the ticket.

Then the notification committee, headed by Major Hinckley, chairman of the state committee, proceeded up stairs to notify Senator Hill and Mr. Lockwood of their nominations.

Senator Hill, flanked on either side by Mayor Gilroy and W. Bourke Cockran, and followed by Mr. Lockwood and the other members of the notification committee, was escorted to the committee room.

There was a cheer from the assembled committeemen as Senator Hill entered the room. He stood with his back to the mantelpiece, holding some manuscript in his hand.

Mr. Lockwood, stood on Mr. Hill's right, while grouped in front were Mayor Gilroy, Delaney Nicoll, Bourke Cockran and the other Tammany men.

Mr. Hill was then formally notified by Major Hinckley of his nomination. He bowed his head in acknowledgment, and a smile played over his face.

Then Congressman Cockran stepped forward and, standing in front of Mr. Hill, addressed him. As he was speaking his big form swayed to and fro, and his voice echoed through the room in impassioned accents.

"Senator Hill," said Mr. Cockran, "the committee of notification formally tenders you the nomination which was made in your presence in convention at Saratoga."

Senator Hill then made his reply, which was cheered to the echo. When he said he was ready to accept the nomination and would head the ticket in the coming campaign the enthusiasm of the state committeemen knew no bounds.

After Mr. Hill had concluded Mr. Lockwood also replied, accepting the nomination for lieutenant-governor.

It is said that so much farm land in England has lately been allowed to lapse from cultivation that wild animals which ten years ago were in danger of extinction are now flourishing and increasing. The blauger and the otter, for instance, are reported to be thriving greatly on agricultural depression.

Prof. C. W. Daugette of Tallahassee has been recently elected by the board of Directors of the State Normal school at this place to fill the vacancy in the faculty of the school caused by the resignation of Miss Bessie Haley. Prof. Daugette is a graduate and post-graduate from the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Auburn, and after his graduation was retained by that college as a teacher. He comes bearing high and complimentary endorsements from some of the most eminent educators in the State.

The school should be congratulated on securing the services of a teacher who together with the other members of the faculty, can but reflect great credit on the institution.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine is resorted to. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two.

A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill.

Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by dealers.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to take from our esteemed friend and co-worker in the cause of education, Mrs. Rosa Anderson, and transported her to realms of bliss above, be it resolved,

1st. That in her death the church, the community, and friends have sustained an irreparable loss.

2nd. That the cause of education has lost a strong friend, and the Teacher's Institute a valuable member.

3rd. That it is with deep sorrow that we give up one so pure, and so useful, yet we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doth all things well.

4th. That we, the Teachers of Calhoun County, extend to the bereaved family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy.

5th. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the Jacksonville Republican and the Anniston Times for publication.

Letter From Sam Stin.

OXFORD, ALA., Oct. 10, 94.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—I am entirely satisfied with your correspondent, and do not wish or deem to trespass upon his territory, but I want my say occasionally, and I hope you will indulge me. You see I get on considerably steam sometimes and feel constrained to say something or bust, and I have a great dislike to bursting, and rather like the saying, "In looking over the election managers for the congressional election I would ask, has the law been strictly complied with? There is no Jeffersonian or Populite candidate in the field, and hence that party is not entitled under the law to a manager at any box in the County, and where there is no competent republican in a beat all three of the managers should be democrats. We of this beat are satisfied with the managers appointed. Two are democrats died in the wool, and one is a Jeffersonian who says he will not vote for Aldrich the republican candidate. Don't you see the republicans are left out in the cold, and as there are some in the beat, there's room for kicking, and mind you, the said republicans never fail to kick or do anything else that is naughty when the opportunity is offered and hence, our appointees should have put two democrats and a republican as managers at each polling place where they lived in the beat, and of none of our party or the other, were citizens of a particular beat, then the managers should have been all democrats, or all republicans. For as the Jeffersonian Populists have no candidate in the race, the law does not provide that they should have any managers. And they should not have any. And I would suggest to the managers, that if any republican or populite, come nosing around to have you appoint some one he suggests, as a helper or clerk to just say to him in the language of Abraham Lincoln, that you will "run the machine as you found it."

A majority rule is good democratic doctrine, and if the majority are democrats, choose all helpers and clerks democrats. A good motto is give the opposition what the law allows them, but not one solitary thing more. That's the way the beat thirteen managers did in the Aug. election and that's the way they'll do in the Nov. election. I can't see how a democrat could be induced to vote for a republican for anything, even for so small a thing as a clerk of an election. Speaking of voting for a republican makes me think of the army mule, clerk of the republicans of this district, asking our Jeffersonian Democrats, to vote for Mr. Aldrich. Any kind of a democrat will suffer the negro to vote with him, will even insist on him voting the democratic ticket.

The Jeffersonians were glad to have the negro vote for their man, and the Organized, so-called, were glad to have the negroes vote for their man. The fact is, any of us like for the negro to follow us politically. But when it comes to white men following the negro, it looks too much like the bottom rail getting on top. And as the Jeffersonians of this district are white men, most of whom have known the negro always, they are not going to bite at the republican hook. Here's the shape of it; the republican hole was baited for suckers by C. H. Walker, a negro, who called the convention. The hook was baited by Bill Stephens, a negro, who placed the name of W. F. Aldrich, in nomination, and the line was cast by W. C. Grove a negro, who seconded the nomination. That's the size of it, and if the Jeffersonians should take that bait, the next time they'll offer their gentleman from Africa straight. Here's the shape of what you Jeffersonians are called on to do. Vote for a man the negroes selected this time, and see how it sits on your stomach, and next time we will let you vote for a buck negro sneer enough. You understand, take it kinder by degrees, like the cat ate the grindstone. When election day comes around Mr. Aldrich will find that he has counted without his host, and the leaders of the Jeffersonians may be ready to fall into line and march into the republican party behind Bill Stephens and the negro republicans; but, as Sam Jones said, they can't deliver the goods. White men who have always been democrats and claim yet to be democrats, though not organized democrats, are not going to fall into line in a republican procession, especially behind negro republicans.

SAM STIN.

OLIVER HOLMES DEAD.

The Venerable Poet, Journalist, Statesman Passes Away.

BEVERLY, Mass., October 8.—The death of Oliver Wendell Holmes has cast a gloom over the city. It came unexpected yesterday and was a blow to his friends in all parts of the country.

Oliver Wendell Holmes was born at Cambridge, Mass., August 29, 1809. He was graduated at Harvard college in 1829, and began the study of law, which he subsequently abandoned for that of medicine. Having attended the hospitals of Paris, and other European cities he commenced practice in Boston in 1836. In 1836 he was elected professor of anatomy and physiology in Dartmouth college, and in 1847 was appointed to a similar professorship in the Massachusetts medical school, from which he retired in 1852.

STORY OF HIS USEFUL CAREER.

As early as 1836 his contributions in verse appeared in various periodicals, and his reputation as a poet was established by the delivery of a matriculation essay, entitled "Poetry," which was followed by others in rapid succession. As a writer of songs, lyrics, and poems for festive occasions, he occupied first place. He was for many years a popular lecturer. In 1857, he commenced in the Atlantic Monthly a series of articles under the title "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," which were followed in 1860 by "The professor at the breakfast table," in 1862 by "The poet at the breakfast table," and in 1865 by "The New Portfolio." In addition he has published "Astraea," in 1850, "Currents and Counter currents in medical science," in 1861; "Elise Venner, a romance of destiny," in 1861; "Border-lands in some provinces of medical science," in 1862; "Songs in many keys," in 1864; "Soundings from the Atlantic," in 1864; "Humorous poems," in 1865; "The Guardian angel," in 1866; "Mechanicism in thought, and morals," in 1870; "Songs of Many seasons," in 1874; "John L. Motley, a memoir," in 1876; "The Iron Gate, and other poems," in 1880; "Medical Essays," in 1882; "Pures from an old volume of life," in 1883; "Ralph Waldo Emerson," in 1884; "A mortal antipathy," in 1885; "Our hundred days in Europe," in 1887; "Before the curtain," in 1888; and numerous poems recited at various reunions and dinners.

HIS LAST DAYS AND HOURS.

In 1886 he visited England, where he was received with great cordiality. Additions of his poems have appeared from time to time, the first in 1836, the last in 1889. He has contributed largely to current medical literature, as well to the literary journals and reviews. A series of general papers from his pen, entitled "Over the taeapans," appeared in the Atlantic Monthly during 1890.

The end came at 12:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the venerable poet's town house, 296 Beacon street. He was surrounded by his children and visibly conscious of their presence up to within a few minutes of the last, though unable to speak. Then he closed his eyes wearily and seemed to fall asleep, as indeed, he did, the sleep of death, at which the whole world will mourn. His death was due to exhaustion following a severe attack of asthma.

COURSE OF LECTURES.

FIVE HIGH TREATS PROMISED THIS WINTER.

The Ladies of the First Presbyterian Church. Arrange for Some Events of Unusual Interest to Aid in Completing Their Church.

The Presbyterian ladies have united as with one voice in determining to assist in the laudable work of completing the new church that is now under roof. They have undertaken a course of five lectures under the management of the Lyceum Bureau of Nashville, and will make every effort to interest the Anniston public and people in surrounding towns in these lectures, thereby hoping to entertain the public as well as reap a reward for their zeal and enterprise.

The celebrated George R. Wendling will open the course October 23, with his masterly effort—"Stonewall Jackson"—a lecture said to be thrilling and popular alike in the North and South.

John Temple Graves, introduced from every platform in the country as successor to the mantle and mission of Henry W. Grady, whom Grady eulogized by saying he has the most phenomenal eloquence I ever heard, will lecture on the night of November the eleventh on the Daughters of Eve.

Dr. Madison C. Peters, a noted diving of New York City, will follow this lecture December the twelfth, with his famous discourse on Courtship, Marriage and Divorce.

After a lapse of two months, on March the twenty-fifth, the great impersonator, Edward Elliott will give his rendition of Hazel Kirk, and in April the course will close with the world famed Schubert Quartette Club.

These lectures recommend themselves, and the ladies who have interested themselves in the success of this elevating and instructive course, appeal to all the citizens of Anniston to patronize them and make them a success.

GOV. WILLIAM C. OATES.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 6.—Several days ago the state democratic committee sent a pressing invitation to Governor-elect W. C. Oates of Alabama, asking him to make speeches in Tennessee. In response to the invitation Colonel Oates stated that other matters would prevent his speaking at Memphis, and asked if next Monday or Thursday would do for Nashville.

Chairman W. C. Carroll of the state democratic committee wired Colonel Oates that Thursday night would suit best and new preparations are being made to accommodate the thousands of people who will come to hear this distinguished statesman.

Will Not Indorse Aldrich.

Not only will the Jeffersonians refuse to indorse Aldrich, the Republican candidate for Congress, but those who belong to the Peoples party straight will not indorse him.

The Peoples party of Talladega county has declined to indorse him, as is shown from the following, which we take from the Mountain Home:

"At a meeting of the Peoples party of Talladega county, held September 22, 1894, in the city of Talladega, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

That being unrepresented by any candidate of our faith, we, the reform party of Talladega county, decline to endorse the nominees of either the Democratic or Republican parties for Congress."

PHILANDER MORGAN, Chairman.

Rev. R. T. Liston, of Jacksonville conducted the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. W. M. Elgin today.—Piedmont Enquirer.

It will be seen from the following letter written by Secretary Carlisle to Representative John T. Heard, that the government through its mints located at San Francisco, Philadelphia and New Orleans is coining the silver bullion purchased under the Sherman law.

Dear Sir: Referring to our personal interview this morning, I have the honor to say that the mints at New Orleans, Philadelphia, and San Francisco are engaged in coining standard silver dollars from the bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890, commonly known as the Sherman law. During the month of July 1890, 6,000,000 were coined, and during the month of August 7,288,000. About the same amount will be coined during the present month, September, and thereafter such amount will be coined as the Secretary may consider advisable under the circumstances.

The third section of the act of July 14, 1890, provided that the Secretary of the Treasury should coin each month into standard dollars 2,000,000 ounces of the silver bullion purchased under the provisions of that act until the 1st day of July, 1891, and thereafter he should coin of the silver bullion purchased under the provisions of the act as much as might be necessary to provide for the redemption of the Treasury notes issued in payment for the bullion, and that any gain or seigniorage arising from such coinage should be accounted for and paid into the Treasury.

The coinage now going on is done under the authority conferred by this section of law, and the seigniorage derived from it is paid into the public Treasury, as required by law, and used for the ordinary purposes for the government, but the remainder of the coin is held in the Treasury notes issued in payment for the bullion.

During the last eleven months 3,970,727 standard silver dollars, coined from the bullion purchased under the act of July 24, 1890, have been paid out in the redemption of Treasury notes, and the notes so redeemed have been retired and cancelled. This process is still going on daily.

Prior to my connection with the department no silver had been paid out for the redemption of such notes, and none of such notes had been retired and cancelled.

Very respectfully yours,

J. G. CARLISLE

"IF CHRIST COME TO CONGRESS" is the title of a book coming from the pen of Howard, the Populist candidate for Congress in the Seventh District of this State. It is a most shameful and scurrilous attack upon the present National Administration and Congress, charging its members with all manner of public infamy and dissolute private life. The question naturally presents itself, why should one who poses as the censor of public morals and civic virtue seek a position which would necessarily associate him with those whom he so severely indicts? Does he not fear contamination?

Mr. Howard, your book will not do.

JOHN SHERMAN'S financial policy is not what the South needs. His policy increases the purchasing power of the dollar, lowers the value of all property, and thus forces the sale of two dollars worth of property to pay one dollar's indebtedness.

The largest plow in the world, perhaps, is owned by Richard Gird of San Bernardino county, Cal. This immense sod turner stands 18 feet high and weighs 39,000 pounds. It runs by steam, is provided with 12 12-inch plow shares and is capable of plowing 50 acres of land per day. It consumes from one to one and a half tons of coal per day, and usually travels at the rate of four miles an hour.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough.  We learn that Miss Calhoun, who is teaching at Whites Gap church, is succeeding in building up a good school at that place. She is a most excellent teacher and the patrons of the school are very much pleased with her.
 Prof. C. W. Daugette will be quite an acquisition to the Normal School at this place. He is thoroughly prepared to conduct an experimental station, and it is the purpose of Prof. Forney to make this an attractive feature of the school. The faculty of the school is now complete and ready for the best work the school has ever done.
 Miss Mamie Ward returned last Wednesday from a visit to Wilson Ridge, in the northern portion of Calhoun, where she taught last summer, and will again teach this winter. The school at that place is sustained by Mr. D. B. Thompson of Watertown, Conn. Several years ago Mr. Thompson bought a large body of mineral and timber land at Wilson Ridge, and during his visits there he was impressed with the necessity of a school to educate the poor children of the community. He had erected on his land a comfortable school building, and not only affords free tuition to the children of that community, but pays for all their books, and supplies the school with charts, maps, etc.
 A citizen of Jacksonville who has had considerable experience in building mountain roads, has gone carefully over the proposed change in the White Plains road, and by the aid and suggestions of Hon. W. C. Scarborough, has located a route which shortens the distance over first route surveyed, and reduces the grade to not more than five feet in one hundred. The county surveyor, Mr. Morton, will go over the route next Monday again. The citizens of Jacksonville are requested to furnish a few hands to go with Mr. Morton to blaze out the route. This they will willingly do. This change is such an improvement over present road that there can be no doubt about its completion.

PIEDMONT.

The Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church meets here on Thursday, and delegates are already coming in.

Miss Mary Lou Moody ran over to Atlanta on Monday, and will return on Saturday. When I say ran I don't mean that she walked. I mean that the train, on which she departed, ran.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Andrews drove down to Oxford on Wednesday to visit relatives, and attend the Baptist Association.

T. Math Alexander has been at home for a few days trying to play the languid invalid.

Mr. Wickes made a flying trip to Atlanta on Tuesday, returning on Wednesday.

Mr. L. Ferguson made a hurried trip to Macon on Monday night to see his daughter, Mrs. Wynatt, who we regret to hear is seriously ill.

Ed Dempsey and Walt Woolf left on the down train Friday night for Dallas, Texas.

Some of the ladies are having cottage prayer-meetings every Thursday afternoon. May they not weary in well doing.

Our honorable Mayor, W. J. Brock, has a new boarder at his house—a young lady who arrived on Monday night, and who is, as yet, nameless.

While Dr. Kennebrew and family were at supper last Saturday evening, some sneak thief went to a front bed room and turned the bedding upside down hunting for money; it is supposed. Failing to find any, and being pressed for time, he carried the top bureau drawer away with him to ride at his leisure.

The dogs got after him, the Dr. ran out, and dropping the drawer in the back yard the thief leaped the fence and departed. He captured a purse of Mrs. Kennebrew's containing some change, but the Dr. pocket-book was overlooked. It is a good plan to close the front door when you go out to supper.

Mr. Hollis Parish is visiting here among friends. He is the son of Rev. Mr. Parish, who was once the beloved pastor of the Methodist church at this place, and is welcomed for his father's sake as well as his own.

Physical culture is quite a fad with the girls, and Mrs. Stephenson has now twenty-three in her class.

On Thursday night, the 4th inst., Mrs. W. M. Elgin breathed her last. She had long been a patient sufferer from consumption, and the tender care of her devoted husband could only smoothe her pathway to the tomb.

She was a most estimable Christian lady, and it may truly be said that "none knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise." Her pastor, Rev. Mr. Liston conducted the beautiful and impressive funeral service, and, universally beloved and regretted, she was laid away in that dreamless sleep which knows no waking.

The friends of Mrs. Sherrill, nee Miss Josie Elgin, will be sorry to learn that sickness has assailed her while on her bridal trip, and she is ill with fever at Niagara.

MIDDLETON.

Rev. B. B. Nunnally dreamed of riding a bicycle one night last week but when he attempted to ride it, it bucked with him.

Commissioner M. N. Coker went over to the chalybeate spring last week. While there he met one of his old friends who learned him some new "political tricks."

Our school opens on the first Monday in November.

The farmers are rushing to get their crops gathered before the winter rains.

We have two prosperous Sabbath schools at Middleton; a Baptist and a Union. We invite all the people to attend them.

Miss Fannie Montgomery of Eastaboga, has come up to spend a week at the spring.

ANNISTON.

Ullman Bros. had their fall opening on the 4th inst. From 10 o'clock in the morning till late in the evening, their store was crowded. There has never been a grander display of dress goods in this section, and the display did not consist of dress goods only, but of everything usually kept in establishments such as theirs. The ladies were simply delighted, and their delight found expression in frequent exclamations as they were conducted from department to department. This popular firm has on hand a complete stock of new, fresh, and superior goods, and, with polite salesmen and strictly business methods, for which the firm is noted, has promise of an increased trade in Calhoun and adjoining counties.

The citizens of the three sister cities have learned with regret that the electric cars will be discontinued on the 15th of this month. It is said that they have been run at a loss for sometime, and that the company has decided to bear it no longer. This will be a great inconvenience to our people, and will injure the city.

The ladies of Anniston will hold a bazar during the month of December for the benefit of Camp Polham. The women, God bless them, can always be depended upon to do their whole duty when demanded by a worthy cause. Camp Polham was without funds and made appeal to the women for help. The appeal was not in vain.

The people are glad that the REPUBLICAN has espoused their cause in the fight for free coinage of silver. When the white metal is fully rehabilitated, financial depression and industrial stagnation will vanish like mist before the sun.

The Wilmer Hotel has been leased by Messrs. Brewer and McKinney, of Ohio, and is now open to the traveling public.

Messrs. Collier Stewart and D. H. Denman, of Jacksonville, were visitors in our city last week.

Miss Zaidie Lapsley, the accomplished daughter of Judge Lapsley, has returned from a month's visit at Carnesville.

Mrs. McKelroy, who has been visiting relatives in Macon and Eufrasia, has returned.

Miss Nellie Sexton, of Philadelphia, is visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sexton.

Hillside Cemetery will be increased in size by the addition of one and a half acres.

WEAVERS.

John Adair and John Ayers are both sick and not able to do any work.

Mr. J. R. McElreath still lingers with but little change in his condition.

A light rain Monday, and is now much cooler with prospect of frost. The late planted corn may have the fodder ruined with frost.

The cotton will all soon be open.

BEAT 10.

We are having nice weather for picking cotton and making sorghum. Both are selling at a low price. There will be enough sorghum though for us to sop both sides of our bread, and cotton enough to pay the interest on what we owe.

On the night of the fourth of this month some unknown person visited P. C. Patterson's evaporator on S. S. Love's place and carried off two tin buckets and several gallons of sorghum, for which there is twenty gallons of sorghum offered to any one who will bring up the buckets and swear he carried them off.

D. Jennings had a fine mule to die a few days since.

Commissioners G. B. Skelton and M. N. Coker were over viewing the public roads last week. Spent one night with H. J. King and took dinner with S. S. Love.

It is hard to tell which has the largest hog P. B. Watson or W. B. Harris. Either of them would weigh probably 500 pounds neat.

Mr. Jackson Borden, who has been in Arkansas for several months, has returned home.

OHATCHEE.

Revs. C. A. Allday and V. M. Tumbin passed through our town on their way from holding a meeting at Ryan's Chapel.

Mr. Stevens of Georgia is visiting his son-in-law, Dr. McRae of this place.

Messrs. Gray and McCharg's lumber mill is in full running order and its cheerful whistle is heard each morning and evening.

The mail route from Ohatchee to Otery will be discontinued after the 15th inst.

ALEXANDRIA.

Mrs. Sam Porterfield has returned from a visit to Piedmont.

Mrs. and Miss Daniels, of Birmingham are visiting the family of Mr. Austin Smith.

Mr. James Phillips is quite ill at his home near this place.

Mrs. W. P. Cooper of Oxford, is visiting friends in the valley.

Miss Dora Gilch has gone to Anniston to attend school.

The members of the Baptist church have called Rev. C. D. Harris as pastor for next year.

Mr. Norris Woodruff made a visit to his parents at Black Creek Falls the past week.

Alexandria now has two cotton buyers, Mr. Norris Woodruff and C. Martin.

MORRISVILLE.

We are having fine weather for gathering crops, and farmers are putting in double quick time picking out cotton, making molasses, and mowing hay. A few more days good weather will enable farmers to gather and store away all their produce in good condition.

Mr. W. G. Moody has gone to Anniston to clerk for Mr. Perkins on fifteenth street.

Mrs. Noah Stephens, spoken of recently as being very sick, died last Wednesday, and was buried Friday in New Bethel cemetery. The burial service was conducted by Rev. B. B. Nunnally. Truly another good woman has gone to her reward.

It seems that cotton will not be King any longer with the farmers in this settlement.

Next year George Doss is going to plant ten acres in tobacco, and five acres in red pepper. J. J. Roberts will plant five acres in tobacco and five acres in sage. L. X. Downing will plant ten acres in tobacco, five acres in indigo, and three acres in gourds. So it can very readily be seen that cotton will be relegated to the rear.

BRUNER.

The weather in this community has been much colder this week than at any time this season.

If the good weather continues a few days longer the cotton will all be open. It is being gathered rapidly.

There is talk of several real estate deals being made in Bruner at an early day.

WHITES GAP.

The health of the people of this community is good.

The majority of the people have the bulk of their cotton gathered.

School opened at this place on the first of this month. It is hoped that the school will have a large attendance.

Rev. Mr. Sparks preached a splendid sermon at this place last Sunday night.

COLVIN'S GAP.

Mrs. Ella Hollingsworth, wife of Mr. Ed. Hollingsworth, died Sunday at Hokes Bluff. She was an estimable Christian woman and well known and much respected in this community.

Prof. Nash and Miss Mattie Ford were married recently.

Fine weather for gathering crops.

Mr. G. W. L. Perry and Mr. N. B. McLean are laid up with chills, caught while running an evaporator on Coosa river.

THE FEN IN

THE MYSTERY OF A HANSOM CAB

I was curious to see whom he would bring forward as a witness to his identity. Scarcely Olivia, as if she had suspicion of the truth, she would never rest until all was cleared up for her satisfaction. I hardly thought Felix would run such risk, the more so as his story of losing the pearl ring could not stand against my assertion that it was on the finger of the dead man. If he still persisted in declaring himself to be Francis, I determined that he should ride with me to the Fen inn and there see the corpse of the man whose name he had so shamelessly assumed. That would surely settle the matter.

Felix was bolder than I gave him credit for, as his witness proved to be none other than Olivia Bellin. She entered the room with assumed lightness, but her face was anxious, and she glanced every now and then at Felix as though to seek his aid and countenance. He, as was natural, wore a haggard expression. His nerves were tensioned up to the highest pitch, a matter of small wonderment, seeing that his life's happiness depended upon this interview.

"What is this strangest story you bring, Mr. Denham?" asked Olivia, greeting me coldly. "In our best days we were never overfriendly."

"Has not Mr. Briarfield told you?"

"I have not had the time," interposed Felix quickly. "Beyond a few hints of the truth she knows nothing."

"Not even that you are Felix Briarfield?"

"Felix?" repeated Miss Bellin in surprise. "But you are making a mistake, Mr. Denham. This is Francis."

"So he says."

"You see, Olivia," said Briarfield, addressing Miss Bellin, "Denham insists upon taking me for my brother Felix."

"How absurd! I assure you, Mr. Denham, that Felix is in Paris. I received a letter from him only this morning."

"Impossible," said I, taken aback by the authority of her tone.

"It is quite true," she continued hurriedly. "Excuse me for a moment, and I shall fetch the letter. You must believe the evidence of your own eyes."

When she left the room, Felix turned toward me with a gleam of triumph in his eyes.

"Are you convinced?" he asked mockingly.

"No. I am puzzled."

"In what way?"

"To think how you managed to get that letter sent on from Paris without being there yourself."

"Against stupidity the gods themselves fight in vain," quoth Felix, struggling his shoulders. "I assure you my brother Felix is in Paris. Miss Bellin is about to produce a letter received from him only this morning, and yet you insist that I am not myself and that he whom I pretend to be is dead. You are mad."

"Here is the letter," said Miss Bellin, entering at this moment. "You see, it bears the date of yesterday. He is at present staying at the Hotel des Etrangers, Rue de St. Honore, but talks of going to Italy."

I examined the letter closely. It was genuine enough. Of that there was no doubt, as it bore the French and English postmarks. I quite believed that it was written by Felix, but also that it had been forwarded from Paris by an emissary of the young man in order to keep up the needed deception. Certainly Felix had a marked talent for intrigue.

"The Felix Briarfield is in Paris," said I, handing back the letter to Olivia, "who was it I met at the Fen inn last night?"

"The Fen inn?" replied Olivia, with a puzzled look. "Why, no one lives there now, Mr. Denham. It is in ruins and has been empty for over two years."

"Nevertheless it was tenanted last night, and I slept there also. I met Francis Briarfield at the same place."

"Francis was not at the Fen inn last night," declared Olivia decisively.

"Quite true," he replied. "I would bed early with a bad headache."

"It was not you I met at the Fen inn last night, but your brother Francis."

"How can you persist in so foolish a story?" said Olivia angrily. "This is Francis, and Felix is in Paris. You could not have met either of them at the Fen inn last night, and indeed I can't believe that you slept there at all."

"I did, Miss Bellin, and there I met Francis."

"If you did, where is he now? Why not clear up the mystery by bringing him here with you?"

"Because he is dead."

"Dead?" she echoed, catching the arm of Francis. "Dead? Who is dead?"

"Francis Briarfield."

"He is mad," she said to Felix in a few tones, her face white with fear.

"Upon my word, I am beginning to think so myself," I said, losing my temper, "but I declare on my oath that I speak the truth. There is only one way of solving the riddle. Come out with me to the Fen inn and look on the face of the dead man I say is Francis Briarfield. A single glance will give the lie to the assertion of this man who pretends to be your lover."

Felix looked at Olivia, she at him. It seemed to me that they grew a shade paler. I wondered whether any guilty bond existed between them, as certainly they seemed to understand one another very well. Olivia appeared anxious to protect Felix from harm. Either she really believed him to be Francis or had taken her heart from one brother and given it to the other. It was she who spoke first, and throughout the interview the woman played a more daring game than did the man. Her attitude puzzled me, and for the moment I was quite in the dark as to what were her real thoughts regarding my story and that of the pseudo Francis.

"We cannot go tonight," she said, with some hesitation, "but tomorrow morning, if you like, we will ride out to the Fen inn."

I glanced at my watch.

"It is now 5 o'clock," said I, "and it will be light on the way there. There is plenty of time for us to ride to for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know? that Castoria is the most perfect preparation for infants and children. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle.

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher, that it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, those things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Dr. H. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Several years ago, my blood was in a condition, I may say, that I can hardly describe. My general health very much impaired. My limbs were covered with sores, and I was unable to walk. I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and in a few weeks my blood was purified, and my sores healed. I am now as well as ever, and I can truly say that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier I ever used. I have since recommended it to all my friends, and I have seen many of them cured by its use.

der to convince you of it. It was willing to ride out to the Fen inn tomorrow with you and Francis. When we arrive there, I assure you we shall see nothing."

"I am certain you'll see more than you bargain for," said I dryly. "I would rather you went there tonight."

"I cannot. My mother would not allow me to go. Be a little considerate, Mr. Denham."

I saw the justice of this reasoning and forbore to press the point. After all, so long as they went the time did not much matter.

"Then let it be tomorrow morning," I said coldly. "At 10 o'clock. I will be at your park gates. If you and Briarfield are not there, I go at once to the police office and give information concerning the murder of Francis."

CHAPTER V.
After that momentous interview I presented myself to my astonished relatives. These were two lovely old maids, sisters of my mother, who had passed the best part of their existence in the Cathedral square of Marshminster. They knew everybody and all about everybody, and potted through life with the assistance of a comfortable income which they shared in common, a trifle of "goose and a series of afternoon teas." At the daily services of the cathedral they were always to be seen and were intimately acquainted with the dean and chapter. Even the bishop condescended to take tea with them on occasions, and they held their heads high in consequence. Moreover, they loved me greatly, though I was but a graceless nephew to the good souls.

When I made my appearance, the Misses Durand received me with open arms. They had not expected me till much later in the month, but had already prepared for my reception. My portmanteau, which I had ordered to be sent down from London, had arrived, the bedding of my room was thoroughly well aired, and Rachel, their hand-maid, spread for me a sumptuous meal. When I washed and clothed myself anew, I made an excellent meal, for the long tramp from the Fen inn made me hungry. I then sat down for a chat and a smoke.

"I think he may, Jane," hinted Sophia gently.

"If he sits near the open window, Sophia," was the firm reply, whereupon, this little comedy having been gone through, as usual, I produced my pipe and took my appointed station. This settled, I made inquiries about Bellin Hall and its inmates.

"I see you have the London beauty down here, aunt,"

"Olivia Bellin," said they both in a breath and then sighed.

"Is there anything to mourn about, Aunt Jane?" I asked, pricking up my ears for useful information which I knew these gossiping could supply.

"Ah," sighed Aunt Jane, folding her withered hands, "who knows the wickedness of the heart?"

"Olivia's heart."

"Dear me, no, Lionel," said Aunt Sophia scandalized. "She is a good girl—as good as she is lovely—and not so silly as her mother," concluded the old lady, with feminine spite.

"Then to whose heart do you allude?" This question started a duel between the two old ladies.

"Francis Briarfield! You remember, Jane?"

"Yes, Sophia. That hussy with the feather box."

"Was seen speaking to him in the cathedral by Bishop Jevon's tomb."

"And he seemed very intimate with her."

"Still, Jane, he was glad when she left Marshminster."

"Rather relieved, I think, Sophia."

"And poor Olivia Bellin knew nothing about his wickedness," they concluded together.

My heart beat rapidly. In this idle talk I saw a link which would bind Felix Briarfield to the girl at the Fen inn.

"Was she a pretty girl?" I asked with well simulated carelessness.

"Handsome as is handsome does," snorted Aunt Jane, who was remarkably plain herself.

"Sure, sister, she was not ill looking," said the gentler Sophia, who had been a toast in her youth. "She had a good figure and dark hair and eyes. I admired her complexion, Jane. It was like cream and a dimple here," finished Sophia, touching her chin. "A pretty, pretty dimple."

"Sophia!"

"Well, it was a pretty dimple, Jane. No one can deny that."

In this description I espied Rose Street, especially as regards the dimple. I had noticed it myself. Evidently there was an understanding between this woman and Felix which had led her to taking up her quarters in the Fen inn with her father, if indeed the landlord was her father—a fact I was beginning to doubt. I set the garrulous ladies off on another tack.

"Do you know anything about the Fen inn, Aunt Jane?"

"The lone inn, child? Never name it! In my youth it was the scene of a terrible murder, and since that time no one has lived in it save one man."

"It is now in ruins," said Sophia, with bated breath, "and is said to be haunted."

"Does any one go near it?"

"No one. I don't think there is a man in the country who would venture near the lone inn after dark. Two years ago a stranger refused and required it, but he did not stay longer than a week."

"What became of him?"

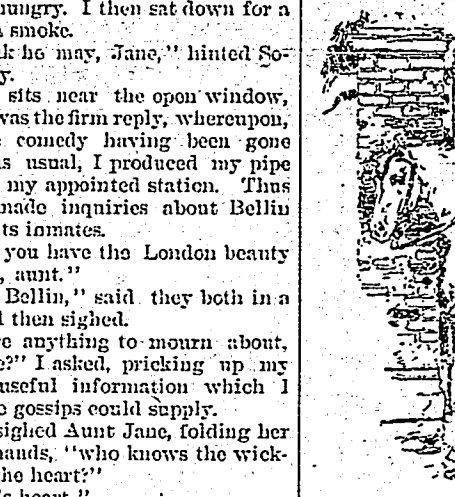

"He disappeared," said Aunt Sophia, nothing but her head solemnly, "vanished altogether. It was supposed that he was drowned in the marshes. The house is still furnished, I believe, but no one goes near it."

"What about the landlord?"

"It is in chancery," said Aunt Jane wisely. "It has no landlord."

After this discussion I went to bed with plenty to think about. I saw well enough that Rose and her daughter had taken up their abode in the ruined house for a certain purpose. That purpose was, I verily believed, to encompass the death of Francis Briarfield, and now that it was accomplished they disappeared. As Aunt Sophia said, the furniture of the former proprietor was still there, so a toilet or two had rendered the house habitable. This accounted for their unwillingness to receive me as a guest and for the mildewed aspect of the rooms which had struck me so forcibly. A second tragedy had accentuated the evil reputation of the house. But, while the first tragedy was known to all, the second was known only to myself and to Felix Briarfield.

I felt certain that he was connected in some way with the unexpected death of his brother. Francis had been lured to that lonely inn for the purpose of be-

In a few minutes I saw them riding down the avenue, some couple, and I sighed to think how the outward appearance of Felix belied his foul spirit. Olivia looked remarkably beautiful and managed her horse to perfection. As they drew near I noticed their haggard looks, as though they had passed the night without sleep, and again the thought flashed through my mind that there might be an understanding between them.

But, however much Olivia knew, I felt sure she was ignorant that Francis had been done to death by his brother, else even she would have recoiled from so base a scoundrel.

"Here we are, you see," said Felix, "and I have brought my hat to Miss Bellin, 'quite ready to set out on this wild goose chase.'"

"I am afraid you will find it more serious than you think, Briarfield."

"At all events, we won't find that body you speak of."

"I am certain you will, Mr. Felix Briarfield."

"You still insist that Francis is Felix?"

"I am absolutely certain of it."

"What about this?" interposed Felix, rolling up his horse and handing in a telegram. "Olivia received it this morning."

I glanced at the telegram. It was from Felix in Paris to Olivia at Marshminster and stated that he was going to Italy in a few days, but hoped to return for the wedding. I handed it back without a remark, but it struck me as strange that such matter should have been sent by wire instead of by post. The telegram, to my mind, was another move in the game Felix was playing so boldly.

"Well, Denham," he said, restoring it to his pocket, "you see by that telegram that Felix is in Paris, and if so, I must be Francis."

"In that case," said I, looking at him keenly, "who is the dead man at the Fen inn?"

"There is none there," he answered jestingly, yet with a lurking anxiety which I was quick to note. "I have no third brother. We are twins, not triplets."

I vouchsafed no reply to this witticism, which I judged to be in bad taste, but rode on rapidly. By this time we had left the town far behind and were some way on the winding road which crossed the marshes. Miss Bellin evidently did not desire to talk for she pushed forward well in front, and as Felix also relapsed into silence we rode on smartly without uttering a word. A most dismal riding party I never saw. The keen wind brought a touch of color into the pale cheeks of Olivia, but she had dark circles under her eyes and looked considerably worried. Felix rode by her side and addressed her every now and then, but I was too far in the rear to know what they were saying, but comfortable while in their company, as they regarded me with great disfavour.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.

ESTABLISHED 1837.

JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1894.

VOLUME 58.

This East is getting fearfully uneasy about the silver question. The people are in favor of free silver, and are determined to do away with the single gold standard, and the East will be much more alarmed yet than now.

Now while the people of the South and West are fighting for relief, it is no time to refuse to support the men for congress who have stood by them. Robbins stood by the people on the money question, and the people should stand by him.

The politicians can change their position on the money question as often as they please, but they cannot move the people of the South and West in their position. The Democratic people of these sections favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and are unchangeable in their demands for the double standard.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by dealers.

SINCE our suggestion as to the organization of a live stock association, a number of farmers have suggested and asked that we urge the organization of an agricultural society to meet in the court house in Jacksonville once a month to discuss all agricultural interests, including the raising of stock. There seems to be a demand for such an organization, and it will afford us pleasure to do all in our power toward putting it in working order; but we suggest that the quick way to effect the organization will be for a few farmers to unite in a call for a meeting to organize. We feel that great benefit would be derived to all farmers by a free exchange of experiences as to farming and raising stock.

SECRETARY SMITH hit wide of the mark when he assigned as a reason for the decreased Democratic majority in Georgia that a small vote had been polled. The return show that the recent vote was one of the largest ever polled in that State. After reading both sides carefully, and after talking with a number of the leading men in Georgia while on a recent visit over there, we arrive at the conclusion that the fall off in the Democratic majority is due very largely to three causes: 1. The dissatisfaction over the financial legislation by the last congress. 2. The bitter contest between Atkinson and Evans for the Democratic nomination. 3. Judge Hines was one of the most prominent Methodists in Georgia, and the support which he received from the prominent men in his church carried to him a very large vote.

THE news comes from all over the District that the conservative, thoughtful men among the Jeffersonians will support Hon. Gaston A. Robbins for congress. And why should they not all do so? He has been true to the interests of his constituents. He has dealt honorably with those whom he represents. When before them asking their suffrages he promised to cast his vote to remove the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the people by reducing the tariff. He kept this promise. He promised to favor a tax on incomes. By his vote he redeemed this pledge. He promised to favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver. He faithfully fulfilled this promise. He did not dodge the main issue. But by his vote and voice he favored the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. He has kept every promise made, and should receive the support of every man in the District who believes in the principles of Democracy as taught by Thomas Jefferson.

GASTON A. ROBBINS NOMINATED ON FIRST BALLOT.

A Deserved Indorsement to a Worthy Representative—Victory Assured.

The convention in Anniston last Monday nominated Hon. Gaston A. Robbins for congress on the first ballot by a vote of 42 to 11.

The nomination of Mr. Robbins insures the success of the Democratic ticket in the Fourth District. He has made a worthy representative, is strong with the people, and will be elected by a very large majority.

We take the following account of the proceedings of the convention from the Age Herald:

When the delegates assembled shortly after 12 o'clock Chairman Ayers of the district committee called the convention to order, stating in a few words why the delegates had again been called to meet. He then named Judge T. J. Burton of Cleburne as temporary chairman, with R. E. L. Neil and W. A. Davis as temporary secretaries.

Full delegations responded from each county on roll call. A motion was carried to make the temporary officers permanent.

The next business was the nominating of candidates. Mr. Mooring of Calhoun placed the name of S. D. G. Brothers of Calhoun in nomination. Mr. Knox of the same county nominated Mr. John M. Caldwell, likewise of the same county. Mr. Mardis Wood of Dallas nominated Hon. Gaston A. Robbins of Dallas. The name of Brothers was withdrawn before the ballot was commenced.

Calhoun voted 11 for Caldwell, Chilton cast 5 for Robbins, Cleburne passed, so did Dallas, Shelby voted 7 for Robbins and Talladega passed. Cleburne, then cast 4 for Robbins, Dallas followed with 16 for her countyman, and then Talladega came in on the homestretch with 10 for Robbins. At this junction the delegates became very enthusiastic, but before the vote was announced Mr. Knox of Calhoun said that his county would change her eleven votes to Ex-Gov. R. W. Cobb of Shelby, but this was without effect since Shelby stuck to Robbins, and the chairman announced that he was duly nominated.

Mr. Knox then moved to make it unanimous, which was carried amid great enthusiasm. Calls were then made for those who had been candidates, but before they appeared on the platform Mr. Knox offered resolutions indorsing Senator Morgan in the strongest terms. The resolutions were adopted unanimously, and he then stated that the great Alabamian was in the city and asked that he be invited to address the convention, which was done.

Mr. Reese of Dallas then offered resolutions praising Hon. T. S. Plowman for his loyalty and devotion to the democratic party, and approving him as one of the truest democrats in the state. These resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Mr. Robbins being loudly called mounted the platform and made a strong speech, which had the effect of allaying the disappointment which had fallen to the lot of the other three true and tried democrats.

Next came Captain Plowman, who delivered a short speech, which left no doubt as to his patriotism. He was followed by Mr. Brothers and Mr. Caldwell, both of whom pledged their unswerving devotion to the principles of their party and pledging their heartiest support to the successful candidate.

These short speeches were so full of the right sort of talk that the convention became wild with enthusiasm, and was in this condition when the noble senator appeared on the scene.

Senator Morgan for thirty minutes held that audience as no other man in this state could have done. Every sentence he uttered was pregnant with meaning. He was in fine condition, appearing to be in perfect health. It was most gratifying to hear him say that from now until the November election he would devote his time speaking in the Fourth and Ninth districts.

Harmony with a big H now prevails in the Fourth district, and all hands are determined to send Hon. Gaston A. Robbins back to congress. He is especially strong throughout the country districts, and they will send up good round majorities for him. He is an able man, with a clean record. Senator Morgan said in his speech that no man could praise him too highly.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine is resorted to. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time, otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured, and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by dealers.

THE Jeffersonians of this district recognize the fact that the Republican party is the arch enemy to the income tax, to a low tariff, to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and under no circumstances will permit Bowman and Longshore to deliver them to the support of Aldrich, the Republican candidate for congress.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Grant have gone to Atlanta on a visit to Rev. Dr. Scott, who is an uncle of Mrs. Grant.

Notes of the Convention.

The congressional convention in Anniston last Monday performed its duty promptly by making a nomination on the first ballot.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins bore the honors of victory becomingly, and in accepting the nomination made an able and well-timed speech.

The defeated candidates all bore their defeat good naturedly. They are among the best Democrats in Alabama, and instead of sulking, will be found in the thickest of the fight from now until the 6th of November. Each one of them was apparently as happy as the successful candidate, and the Democracy of the Fourth District is to be congratulated that all is harmonious, and that the Democratic nominee will be elected by a majority of not less than six or eight thousand.

The speech of Senator John T. Morgan at the close of the convention was just such a speech as only Senator Morgan can make. It was as full of sound Democratic doctrine as could possibly be included in the number of words spoken.

The compliment which he paid Hon. Gaston A. Robbins was one which no representative could fail to appreciate. He stated that he had watched the course of Mr. Robbins more closely than he had any other man in congress, because he was from his home district. That it afforded him pleasure to state that he had made a faithful representative—that he had not dodged any issue—that he had voted upon every measure before the house—and that he had properly represented his district in every vote which he cast.

Senator Morgan received a perfect storm of applause when he entered the opera house. There is no question but that he is to-day the most beloved man in Alabama.

The Voice of the People.

The voice of the people of the Fourth congressional district found expression yesterday in the unanimous renomination of Hon. Gaston A. Robbins for a second term in congress. We say it was the voice of the people because the political enemies of Mr. Robbins have never disputed that a large majority of the people of the district favored his renomination and re-election.

If what was done yesterday had been done on the 4th day of September, at the assembling of the original convention, the party would have been harmonious and united today. Not a political wound would have been made, no personal grievances would have been aroused and every Democratic voice in the district would now be speaking for the success of the ticket. But it will necessarily take a few days for some political wounds to heal, and in the meantime much valuable time is lost. Mr. Robbins will labor under serious disadvantage for he has now less than three weeks in which to prosecute his campaign. While we have not a doubt of his triumphant victory his majority will be necessarily lessened, because he will not have time to meet the people and discuss with them the true and ever living principles of Democracy.

The Hot Blast has favored the renomination of Mr. Robbins, we most emphatically deny for any personal reasons, and not because we did not more truly love the three noble sons of Calhoun who offered for the position, but because we felt that it would be political injustice to retire this true and tried Democrat without a reindorsement, and without an abundant opportunity to show his ability and to demonstrate his usefulness.

Senator Morgan paid a high tribute to the worth of the man, yesterday, after the conclusion of the work of the convention. He said that he was able, conscientious and true, and had made a most brilliant record in congress, and he had never voted wrong or advocated an unjust or an unpopular measure. Without disparaging the Democratic ty or the worth of a single opponent, Gen. Morgan declared that his superior could not be found in the district, and he felt such an interest in the man, and appreciated his present disadvantages to such an extent that he intended to canvass the district in his behalf.—Anniston Hot Blast.

The time has come when the intolerant dictation of any newspaper hurts the cause which it advocates. The people are not in a frame of mind now to be driven into measures. They must be reached by argument and reason.

We are told that we touched the Montgomery Advertiser in a very tender spot when we suggested last week that Gen. Shelby's check should again be used this year to control the Advertiser's intolerance.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

ORDERED BY STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Consideration of Denson Matter Deferred.

Last week the REPUBLICAN gave an account of the occurrences which led to the consideration of the primary election in the Fourth District by the Democratic State Executive committee.

After two days spent in close investigation and consideration the committee declared the result of the recent primary void. It canceled the primary not on account of the frauds alleged by the representatives of the different candidates, but on account of the call for the primary not having been issued in accordance with party law and custom. The state committee holds that a district committee can only call a convention, and a convention or county executive committee only has the right to call a primary.

After reaching the conclusion to cancel the primary, the state committee instructed the chairman of the district executive committee to reconvene the convention that met in Anniston Sept. 4th and nominate Hon. Mardis L. Wood for congress, on Monday Oct. 15, in Anniston, to nominate a Democratic candidate for congress.

In compliance with the instructions, the district chairman called the convention, the result of which is given in this issue.

The Denson matter did not come before the convention. The Calhoun club filed its charges of disloyalty and proposed to submit their hearing to the committee as constituted, but after two hours discussion the committee determined that as Mr. Denson was not present it could not, therefore, consent to a hearing. In the absence of a quorum it was thought best not to have any hearing of the matter. The effect of this is that the matter is still pending before the committee, and in order to get a hearing another meeting must be called and a quorum gotten together.

Colonel Denson has never received any notification that the committee would try his case, for the reason that he has been absent from his office making speeches in the western part of district; hence his absence at this time.

MANNING INTERVIEWED.
The Evangel Says Greer is a Conscientious Man.

A reporter saw Mr. Manning, the Evangel this morning, says: The Opelika News. He had just returned from Clanton, Barbour County, where he made a Populist speech last Saturday.

He was shown the Greer letter in the Advertiser.

"Greer," said Manning, "is a conscientious good man."

The Evangel looked as if he were searching for a distant object and said no more. He was then asked the significance of the letter and its possible effect. Manning replied:

"It signifies that Greer is a Populist and the effect is that if Kolbism doesn't mean Populism, Greer is not a Kolbite. He gives a hint that the people will not be led, except in the direction which their conscience directs. Further than this I have nothing to say."

"At the proper time," continued Manning, "my friends will hear from me in response to numbers of letters from over the State. I may give a reply through the press in a great while. I want to say, however, that I am in politics because I want to see the principle I advocated enacted into laws. I will always vote for the man nearest my belief, with the party nearest my heart; any sensible man ought to do this."

J. P. Allgood, Dentist, Piedmont, Ala., will be in Jacksonville, Ala., from the 22 to 27 of October well prepared to practice his profession, and will extract your teeth without pain with the use of Odo's tender.

Now is no time for political apathy. Every man should ground any personal feeling which he may have, and go to work in earnest to give the largest Democratic majority ever given in the Fourth District.

Now is the accepted time for the conservative men in the State of Alabama to get together. All those who vote for the Democratic nominees in the congressional election will be qualified to participate in all the Democratic primaries in the next State and county elections.

The Democratic hosts in the Fourth District are now thoroughly in line, working harmoniously together, and Hon. Gaston A. Robbins will be elected by a larger majority on the 6th of November than he was two years ago. His majority two years ago was about six thousand, and this year will probably reach eight thousand.

The Montgomery Advertiser seems to fear that there is a disposition on the part of the REPUBLICAN to reclaim the conservative men among the Jeffersonians to the Democratic party in the interest of a certain candidate for Governor. The REPUBLICAN is greatly more interested in securing the nomination of a candidate in sympathy with and the choice of the people than in furthering the aspirations of any individual, or in forcing Wall Street on the state.

LEN GREER never did a wiser or more consistent act in his life than when he filed a written protest to the agreement which binds Bowman, Longshore and others to the support of a lifelong Republican for congress. He was wise enough then to know that the Jeffersonians could not be delivered to the party which hates the South, and never lets an opportunity pass to legislate against it in the interest of the North and East. Len Greer knows that no two parties are so wide apart in their principles as a Jeffersonian Democrat and a Republican, and has wisely determined not to be a party to an effort to attempt to get the Jeffersonians to vote the Republican ticket.

It was the Republican party that enacted reconstruction laws which were intended to rob the people of their rights, which even closed the courts in Calhoun county, which by the aid of the bayonet took the judge off the bench in Jacksonville and drug him to jail, which deposed our duly elected officials, which robbed our treasuries, which humiliated, plundered and oppressed our people, and now shame be upon the name of the man in Calhoun county who on the 6th of November will cast his ballot in the interest of the party which has so cursed the men, the women, sons and daughters of the South. Surely, surely, the white men of this country are not yet ready to take this step. They cannot take it and be true to the memory of our sacred dead who fought for the rights of the Southern people.

The line is now clearly drawn in the congressional race in the Fourth District. The people are called upon to decide whether they will support a man who has been a lifelong Republican, who was nominated as a Republican by a Republican convention called by a Republican negro from Dallas county, who was placed in nomination before that convention by a Republican negro in Calhoun; or whether they will support a Southern born man who has been a Democrat all his life, a man who has proven himself to be a faithful representative, a man who by his votes in the last congress kept every pledge which he made the people during the last campaign. It should require no time for any man who loves the South and the memory of the confederate dead, and who remembers the dark days of reconstruction, to determine which of these candidates he will support.

The Republican

By T. W. AYERS

SATURDAY, OCT. 20, 1894.
For Congress, Fourth District,
HON. GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

A Pleasant Duty

We take very great pleasure in placing the name of Hon. Gaston A. Robbins at the head of the REPUBLICAN as our candidate for congress in the Fourth District. It should indeed be a pleasure to every voter to support a man who as a representative has dealt honorably with his constituents, and who has properly represented their interest on every measure which has come before him.

At this day it seems to be a popular custom for representatives to either dodge important questions or to misrepresent their people; and it gives us pleasure to be able to say that no such charge can be brought against Gaston A. Robbins.

Two years ago he went before the people and promised that he would give his vote and influence in support of certain measures if he was honored with a seat in the national congress. His frankness and earnestness impressed the people that he was an honorable gentleman. They trusted him and elected him by six thousand majority. He now comes before the people and his friends are able to say for him that he has not betrayed a trust, that he has kept every pledge which he made, that he did not dodge a single issue which came before the last congress, and that he properly represented his district in every vote which he cast. No living man could be more faithful to the trust imposed than he has been. He promised the people if elected he would vote to reduce taxation. This he did. He promised if elected he would favor an income tax bill. This promise he kept. He promised if elected he would favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver. This pledge he faithfully kept by voting against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman bill, and in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

On the money question he stood by the people of his district like a man. Now the free silver men of the district should act like men and stand by him on the 6th of November. They should not agree to stay away from the polls and decline to vote, but should show that they are in earnest in their fight for the free and unlimited coinage of silver by going to the polls and standing by their representative who stood by the white metal in the last congress. There is too much involved in this fight to give up a man who is known to be all right, and every man who has his heart in this cause should go to the polls on the 6th of November and cast his ballot for Gaston A. Robbins, our tried and true representative.

A Handy Marriage

Monday morning at the residence of Genl. J. W. Burke, Miss Martha J. Duplessis and Mr. Norman Pittman were united in the bonds of matrimony.

Rev. Father McDonnell, S. J., of Selma, officiated. At 10 o'clock the bridal party marched into the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the sister of the bride, Miss Marie Duplessis. The bridesmaid, Miss Marie Burke, entered first accompanied by the groom. Then followed the bride in all her loveliness, leaning on the arm of Mr. Frank Burke. Rev. Father McDonnell delivered a very pretty and impressive address to the bride and groom and friends present. After which the ceremony was performed while "Call Me Thine Own" was softly played. The bride and bridesmaid were attired in white organdies trimmed with satin. Owing to the recent death of the mother of the bride, only a few intimate friends of the bride were present.

After hearty congratulations had been received, the party were ushered into the dining room where refreshments were served. Whilst the champagne corks flew, Mr. Frank Burke, in a graceful manner, toasted the bride and groom. The house was darkened to represent night and the beauty of the decoration was enhanced by the different colored lights. Many beautiful presents were received.

The bride is one of Mobile's fairest and most accomplished daughters, while the groom is a well known business man of Mobile, where he is highly esteemed by all who know him.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittman took their departure over the E. & W. for an extended bridal tour.

For a few years Jacksonville was the home of Miss Martha, and during her life in our midst, her gentle disposition, her musical accomplishments and many admirable traits of womanly character, won for her a tender place in the hearts of all who knew her.

Their friends wish them all the blessings that can be bestowed upon them, and may their path through life be as bright and beautiful as the day they were married. Mr. and Mrs. Pittman will be "At Home" after November 15th, 103 South Jefferson St., Mobile, Alabama. Mobile papers copy.

THE fight in the Fourth District is not a factional fight. Factionalism has been wiped out and party lines clearly drawn. You must now either vote for the Democratic party which is the friend of the South, or the Republican party which is the enemy of the South.

ANNISTON.

Well, another convention has come and gone. While it was not altogether serene, it was entirely different from the one held on the fourth day of September. Aside from the differences which arose in the Calhoun delegation, there was nothing unbecoming in the convention's deliberation. As everybody knows, this Hon. G. A. Robbins was the victorious contestant. Although disappointed in the defeat of our gallant home candidate, Hon. John M. Caldwell, we are unanimous in our desire for the triumphant election of Mr. Robbins. Democracy has spoken, and we, as loyal democrats, will do as we have always done, viz: Put our shoulders to the wheel and, on the sixth day of November, roll up a rousing majority for the nominee.

Messrs. Plowman, Brothers and Caldwell made able and eloquent speeches before the convention, congratulating Mr. Robbins on his victory, and pledging him their hearty and active support from now till the election. They are willing to subordinate their desires in the interest of Democracy and good government. They are true men, indeed, of whom all good people should be proud. Would that we had more such citizens.

The grandest old man in the nation, Senator John T. Morgan, has been a visitor in our city this week. He was invited to address the convention on Monday, just after the nomination of Mr. Robbins. On the occasion of his name, the convention and audience went wild; and when he was introduced, the scene was unparalleled in the history of fourth district conventions. For almost an hour, he expounded pure democratic doctrine in an able, eloquent, argumentative, convincing, and a nanswerable manner. Several ladies were present, and the party was enthused and strengthened. Senator Morgan will make several speeches in this district during the campaign. He says Robbins is the right man in the right place, and so say the people.

It was the intention of the electric line, so we are reliably informed, to discontinue its car service on the 15th; but, at the solicitation of various business men, it was decided to run on till the 1st of November. At that time, if some absolutely necessary money arrangements have not been consummated, the cars will stop.

Quite a number of citizens came down Monday from Jacksonville, to attend the political gathering. We are always glad to meet those who live in the Capital city. A closer bond of union and effort should exist between Calhoun's two chief towns, anyway.

Cotton is coming in rapidly now. Anniston is the best cotton market in this part of Alabama.

Our merchants are getting in new goods daily, and the results of the new Democratic tariff law is plainly visible in the decreased prices at which they are sold.

Some of our people are slightly of the opinion that political trading, especially in things congressional, is unwise, uncertain, and unpleasant.

The Calhoun Hotel is nearing completion.

OHATCHEE.

Dr. McRae, at this place, has a corn field which grew stalks 16 feet and 8 inches high. One of which can be seen on the front of the post office. Seeing is believing.

Miss Zula Brothers, who is attending school in Jacksonville, spent last Sunday at home near here.

Messrs. Maxwell & Son, who have charge of the saw mill near here, are sending in lumber to be shipped over the East & West to distant points.

Mr. John L. Thompson made a good catch last night with his fish trap, over sixty pounds of which he shipped to Jacksonville.

OXFORD.

The delegates who attended the Baptist Association and Sunday School Convention have all returned to their homes, and no doubt they carry in their minds pleasant remembrances of the hospitality of Oxford. The Association was a feast of good things to those who were privileged to attend. There was plenty of inspiration in the shape of good sermons and talks, and the influence of this occasion will finally reach the uttermost borders of Calhoun county.

The Robbins men are jubilant over his nomination; but the Caldwell men—and we like to have said that they constitute a majority of the Democrats of the Fourth District—know that the Colonel's time is coming. Recognized merit and splendid ability have never yet gone unrewarded, nor do we believe such will be the case in the years that are to come.

Rev. H. S. Hamilton, pastor of the Methodist church, has been in Tusculum the past week assisting in a protracted meeting. His pulpit was very ably filled, on last Sunday by Rev. George D. Harris. The Baptist pulpit was occupied by Rev. J. A. Scott of Iron City.

The Calhoun Rifles are to have an oyster supper and ice cream festival next Friday night, Oct. 19th. It takes more to run a military company and the boys have decided that they will give the people something good to eat, and a good time too, in exchange for a little financial assistance. T. B. Cooper was elected Junior Second Lieutenant of the company on the 12th inst.

The new Cooper building is going up rapidly, and now it is only a question of a short time before one of the waste places of Oxford will be ornamented with a handsome modern structure.

Prof. Bernard Autrey and family, recently of Atlanta, are stopping for the present with Prof. Dodson. Prof. and Mrs. Autrey have been very successful as educators, having taught for a number of years at Brewton, Ala., at which place they built up a splendid school.

The news has just reached your correspondent that a volcano has been discovered about three miles west of town. Immense volumes of smoke are visible in that direction and two men have already been out to see it, but they didn't dare approach nearer than two or three hundred yards, and at that distance their investigation was necessarily imperfect. At the present writing, another party has gone out to inspect the burning mountain. One of our citizens says he recently heard rumbling noise in the direction of the newly discovered wonder, and of course this is strong evidence of its reality.

We have often heard of "fire and brimstone" breaking forth in Georgia, but to the best of our knowledge, such a thing never occurred before in Alabama.

Mr. Editor, should Oxford become a second Pompeii, we hope to be found like the sentinel of old—at our post engaged in the performance of our duty.

Quid rides!

DEARMANVILLE.

The cry is hard times, but the one day's excursion to Atlanta caught a good crowd.

A large number of the Third party people have said that they would vote for Robbins.

The large number of the Tribunes sent here to Mr. G. A. Bittell are layed on the table.

Many fine beef cattle in this section, but the low price for farmers to hold them.

The nomination of Mr. Robbins gives satisfaction in this section. He should have been nominated at first.

CHOCOLOCO.

Mr. Ab Scarbrough's gin house caught fire last Saturday, and but for his neighbors gathering in, the house, with several bales cotton would have been destroyed.

Enoch Hughes out Wilkin Harris, quite severely and came very near killing him. Harris is a very insolent negro, and we learn disputed Hughes word.

Mr. E. A. Womack, of Egypt, was among the crowd who visited our town last Sunday.

Rev. Hugh Johnson, preached at Cane Creek Baptist church last Sunday.

Preparations are being made to reinforce Jacksonville during circuit court.

Mr. J. O. A. Brown, has rented and to cultivate next year from Capt. F. W. Foster, and will move on the place soon. Mr. Brown is a good citizen and we regret his leaving our neighborhood.

Mr. L. N. Downing passed through our burg this morning on his way to Anniston to attend the District Convention. He is a delegate and will help nominate the third (party) candidate for congress from this District.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Egge's, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at all the Drug Stores. Regular size 50 and $1.00.

When you come to court, bring the family with you and have some of J. M. House's beautiful French Satin Finish Photo's made. We know "times are hard" now, but you won't regret the slight expense later on when perhaps some dear face in the household is missing. Mr. House will remain in Jacksonville only a little while.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The only Alabama appointee this year to a scholarship in the Peabody Normal College at Nashville, was Miss Elizabeth A. Priddy, of Jacksonville. She, Miss Annie E. Davenport, and Miss Hallie E. Bittell, who was a non-scholarship student last year but who by her work won a scholarship this year and next, are graduates of the State Normal School at Jacksonville. Mr. Edgar A. Wright, the Peabody, represents student at the Normal College—the Troy State.

The Alaquan.

Miss Della Stevens, of Boston, Mass., writes: "I have always suffered from various ailments, for which I tried various remedies, and many relatives, but none relieved me. After taking a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, I am now well, and I feel that I have been saved from a life of suffering. I will take pleasure in telling only words of praise for the wonderful medicine, and in recommending it to all who are afflicted with any ailment."

LIFE-SAVED BY
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

Seven years ago, my wife had a severe attack of lung trouble, which the physicians pronounced consumption. The cough was extremely distressing, especially at night, and was frequently attended with the spitting of blood. The doctors being unable to help her, I induced her to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was surprised at the great relief it gave. Before using one whole bottle, she was cured, so that now she is quite strong and healthy. That this medicine saved my wife's life, I have not the least doubt. - K. Morris, Memphis, Tenn.

The New Road.

The building of the road on the new survey, recently made, across the mountain between Jacksonville and White Plains, is an important matter. It is a matter that concerns the entire public in this part of the county. If we go to the expense to have public roads we should have good ones. Nothing adds more to the convenience and comfort of the public, and to the value of real estate, according to the amount invested, than good public high ways. Good churches, good schools, and good public roads, with scientific farming and some industrial enterprise in the way of manufacturing, will make this one of the finest countries in the South. We have in the main good roads in this county. The road across the mountain between this and White Plains is an exception. This is a good road considering the bed, but it is steep, a hard pull with a horse and buggy, and very hard on a loaded team even in good weather. We learn that the heaviest grade on the new survey is 5 feet in 100. Surely there can be no doubt about the wisdom of building this new road. Besides the comfort and convenience, the saving of time, and strain on stock and vehicles, the new road will cost so much less to keep it up that in this way the amount necessary to build it, will in a few years be saved.

If the public are to be taxed to build good roads and keep them up, and we believe this is right, then let us have the best possible public high ways. No doubt the road will be built. It will then be a pleasure to make the drive across the mountain, which we look upon with dread now. The public are due General Forney thanks for the interest he has taken in the matter. - Christian Enterprise.

THE BETTER WAY

the canning factory, and in the morning pumpkins. The crop is immense this year, many of them weighing from 30 to 40 pounds.

Bridgeport, News.

This should have great interest for the farmers, and others in this section. This country is well adapted for truck farming. What we need is a canning factory of sufficient capacity to can the peas, beans, sweet corn, tomatoes, berries, pumpkins and etc., that could be raised here at a small cost. This would give the farmer, and gardener market for all they could raise.

It would stimulate farming, help all lines of trade, and bring money into the country. We need to do something for ourselves and quit crying hard times. We have looked to congress too much.

Let us look to our own resources more, and take care of our local interests better, and put more trust in God, and serve Him, and better times will come. This is the right way, and the only way. It is open to us. Let us pursue it. - Christian Enterprise.

TAKE STEPS

In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 95 per cent. are cured by Dr. J. C. Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by Golden Medical Discovery, were genuine cases of this dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpassed all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty coughs, and its filthy "emissions," and catarrhs, have been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of milk, whey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of the cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrhs and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 100 pages which will be mailed to you on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.

Our 4th Quarterly Conference.

Our 4th Quarterly Conference convened Oct. the 6th. Rev. T. G. Slaughter was in the chair, and looked after all the interests of the charge with care. Rev. George H. Smith preached at 11 a. m. Saturday, and at night, and Sunday at 11 a. m. He is a fine preacher, and delighted the large congregations who were in attendance. Our Sacramental service Sunday was good, and well attended. We had one of the best love feasts Sunday afternoon which we have attended for a long time. It was good to be there. The business session of our conference was held Saturday afternoon, and was very interesting. The Sunday school report provoked considerable discussion, which no doubt did good. The report of trustees also provoked some discussion. The conference resolved to recover and gutter the parsonage, and appointed a committee to have it done. There are 6 on the committee, 3 from each church, as follows: Jacksonville, F. A. Weems, J. J. Skelton, C. J. Porter, White Plains, W. C. Scarborough, W. M. Hyatt, J. K. Hager.

Resolutions complimentary to Dr. Slaughter were introduced and unanimously adopted, in spite of his protest. Dr. Slaughter preached for us Sunday night, and Monday morning, and then hastened on to other engagements. He has done a faithful year's work. We sincerely hope that his lot will be thrown in a pleasant field, and that abundant blessings may rest upon him, and great success attend him. - Christian Enterprise.

An Ugly Charge.

A short time since a young girl in Anniston by the name of Mattie Tucker died suddenly, and her death was rather mysterious to those who investigated it.

The investigation as to the cause of her death has been kept up, and Monday's Hot Blast gives the following account of it:

"Evidence which has been rapidly accumulating since the sad event proves, most conclusively that the death of Mattie Tucker, the unfortunate young woman who died early in the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 19, in the house of Gussie Wilson, corner Glen Addie and seventh streets, was caused by a criminal operation performed the night before.

And the proof is just as strong that Dr. Samuel J. McCurry performed that operation.

Dr. McCurry left town Friday night of the same week but every effort is being made to apprehend him.

Gov. Jones has offered a reward of $200 for his capture and it is not thought he will be at liberty much longer.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.

ESTABLISHED 1837.

JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1894.

VOLUME 53.

ALABAMA'S distinguished citizen, Hon. Jos. F. Johnston will address the people of Calhoun county in the court house at Jacksonville, next Wednesday, Oct. 31st. It is expected that the people in all portions of the county, come out and hear Capt. Johnston on this occasion. He is an able and interesting speaker, and those who have not heard him, should not lose this opportunity to hear him.

The white men in the Fourth District who vote the Republican ticket on the 6th of November will be ashamed of it as long as they live.

The Lowndes Pioneer, a Populist paper, in referring to the condition in the Fourth District, and particularly in Talladega county, says: "Major Philander Morgan, of that county, perhaps the ablest and best man among the populists of the state, writes the editor of this paper as follows: 'I would be untrue to myself, untrue to my political faith, and untrue to the principles of my party, were I to consent to endorse even a pro-silver Republican.'

The idea that the Republican party is in favor of fair elections is too ridiculous to be claimed by any sane man. Not only has it stolen a number of States, but in 1873, perpetrated the fraud of even deceiving congress of the United States and demonetizing silver. Not only stopped the coinage of silver, but demonetized that already in circulation. This it accomplished by a strict party vote. All the Republicans voting for it, and all the Democrats against it. This shows the honor and trustworthiness of the Republican party.

BEFORE the white men of Calhoun county cast a ballot for a Republican, let them think of the treatment this county received at the hands of that party; let them think of the day when the Republican party by the aid of the bayonet took Judge Burrell T. Pope, as true a Southern judge as ever breathed the breath of life, off the bench in the court house in Jacksonville and dragged him to jail. Let them think that the same day, Gabe Doubt, an other true Southern man, was also placed behind the bars. Let them also remember that because his Southern manhood led him to denounce such treatment, that old uncle Billy Hughes, a paralyzed citizen who was even unable to walk, was literally dragged to jail and locked behind the bars. Let them remember that the Republican party has always been the enemy of the South and its people.

WHITE men of the Fourth District: Read and think, and see if you can afford to fail to go to the polls and vote for Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, who has stood nobly by the people of his District and the people of the South. This is now no factional fight. Mr. Robbins is opposed by W. F. Aldrich, a life-long Republican, and a McKinley tariffite. Aldrich was nominated as a Republican by a convention called by a negro Republican, C. H. Walker, of Dallas. He was placed in nomination by a negro Republican by the name of Bill Stevens, of Calhoun. The nomination was seconded by a negro Republican by the name of W. C. Grove, of Dallas. He now appears before the people as the candidate of that convention. Can you Southern born white men support him? Can you Jeffersonians, you men who believe in the free and unlimited coinage of silver, afford to stay at home and not vote for Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, who has stood by the people on every important question, when he is opposed by the high tariff Republican placed in nomination by negroes before a convention called by a negro? Think of these questions deliberately before you decide not to go to the polls and vote for Robbins.

HON. GASTON A. ROBBINS ADDRESSES THE PEOPLE OF CALHOUN

In the Court House in Jacksonville, He Discussed Intelligently the Important Issues.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, the Democratic nominee for congress in the Fourth District, in addressing the people of Calhoun county in the court house in Jacksonville last Monday, discussed in an intelligent and practical manner the important questions considered by the last congress, and gave an account of his stewardship as the Representative of the Fourth District.

Our space will not permit us to give even an outline of Mr. Robbins' very able speech, and we will give only the statement of the positions which he took upon the most important questions now before the people.

He was introduced as a Representative who had faithfully and honorably represented his District, in that he had kept every pledge which he made the people in his canvass two years ago.

In opening his speech he stated that there was no factionalism in this fight. That factional lines were now entirely obliterated, and that this was a straight fight between the Democrats and Republicans. That on the 6th of November every voter would be called upon to take his place in line either with the Democrats or the Republicans. He insisted that no Southern white man should turn the back of his hand upon the South and all her interests by voting the Republican ticket.

In discussing the tariff he held that no party could justly tax the masses to enrich the few. This principle of protection he said was one of the basic principles of the Republican party. The leaders of that party claim that a high protection to our industries enrich the laborers; but where are the laboring men who have grown rich under the operation of McKinley's tariff law?

As an example of the effect of high tariff upon the interest of agriculture, he called attention to the condition of the farmers in Ohio. Where the farmers of that State were once independent, prosperous, and happy; the effect of a high tariff caused the census of 1890 to show that they were now bound down with a mortgage indebtedness of $163 per capita.

A protective tariff causes the masses to suffer, while the few grow rich. Twenty years ago there were few millionaires; now there are thousands. They made their millions by the organizations of trusts and combines under Republican legislation. But now, thanks to the efforts of the grandest man in the United States Senate, John T. Morgan, a clause was inserted in the recent tariff bill which makes it a crime to organize a trust or articles which the people need.

He said the Democrats had already lifted many of the burdens of taxation off the people, and will yet lift more. Goods will be cheaper this year than ever before. He was opposed to a bounty being paid on any article. In the Democratic tariff no bounty was paid to the sugar manufacturers. They were no more entitled to a bounty, than are the cotton raisers of the South.

The hope of the South is to manufacture its own cotton, and looking to this end he introduced a bill to put all machinery used in the manufacture of cotton goods on the free list. With a sufficient number of factories in the South to manufacture all our cotton into merchantable goods, we will, then, give employment to all our idle people, and the South will then have an unparalleled prosperity based upon a foundation as solid as a rock.

He stated that he voted for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, and was still in favor of it at that ratio. He insisted that to have true bimetalism, silver must be on an equality with gold. That the two metals must be coined without discriminating against one metal in favor of the other. He believed when silver was thus coined, there would be no trouble in maintaining the ratio between the two metals.

In a word, our Representative places himself squarely in favor of a revenue only sufficient to defray the expenses of the government honorably and economically administered. As opposed to all combines and trusts, and to the payment of bounties to any individuals. As in favor of a larger income tax than the one embodied in the present tariff bill. As in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

Circuit Court.

Judge Box was unavoidably detained last Monday on account of the railroad connection, and did not reach Jacksonville to open the Circuit court until Tuesday morning.

Tuesday morning the court was called, and the grand jury organized by the selection of C. D. Martin as foreman. The charge of Judge Box was brief and clear.

He did not fail to charge the jury that it was its duty to inquire into the recent elections held in this county, and stated if any fraud had been committed, the guilty should be indicted as the law directs.

Only a few cases have been disposed of up to the time we go to press. Next week we will give complete list of all cases tried.

Both Judge Box and Solicitor Wilson are looking well, and seem to be in good condition to undergo the duties of running the court.

In addition to the local bar, we notice the following lawyers in attendance: From Anniston: Messrs. Willett, McLeod, Knox, Carthel, Whiteside, Felham, Age, Mathews, Savage, Coleman; Piedmont: Brock, Cook, Wilson, Keer; Gadsden: Burnette; Talladega: Dickson.

Back from California.

A few weeks ago Mr. J. T. Nunnally and his family left Jacksonville for Los Angeles, California, to make their future home in that far off State.

Last Sunday their friends in Jacksonville were astonished to learn that the entire family had returned. They came, without a word of warning to any of their friends.

Before Mr. Nunnally left Jacksonville he made an arrangement for work in a shop in Los Angeles with an old friend. A few days after his arrival in the city which was to be his new home, his friend died. This changed all his plans, and as he was not able to make any other arrangement which was entirely satisfactory, he decided to return to his old home. He and his excellent family have received a hearty welcome back to Jacksonville by their friends.

Mr. Nunnally says that while California is a great State, he found all business trades and professions crowded, and his advice to Alabamians is to stay in Alabama.

It is a very noticeable fact that at all the Democratic gatherings in the Fourth District the mention of the name of John T. Morgan is greeted with the loudest applause. This love for the grand old man is no doubt demonstrated in all the Districts in Alabama as it is in the Fourth.

The chairman of the Democratic executive committee in the Seventh District, Col. B. H. Nicholson, makes some ugly charges against W. M. Howard, the young Populist candidate, who wants to go to congress to reform the terrible state of morals which his recent book says exists there.

Colonel Nicholson first affirms that Howard was expelled from the Baptist church near the town of Cave Spring, Ga., for his connection with the criminal and fraudulent sale of some property. Mr. Jack Ellis, of Cave Spring, testifies to his expulsion.

Judge Franklin, of Fort Payne, Ala., testifies to having run Howard away from his house for playing cards with negroes for money. John Williams, a negro, makes affidavit that he has gambled with Howard on Sunday several times.

As to the third accusation Colonel Nicholson says:

"Mr. Howard desires to go to congress to reform the terrible state of morals which his book says exist there, and yet while living at Fort Payne he showed his littleness to institute such a reformation."

"On a certain night he made a prayer in the church, the fervor of which was the talk of the town next day. On his return home from his devotional exercises he filled an engagement of another character. This is the kind of a man who desires to reform congress. In support of this statement we have in our possession affidavits of Mr. Jerome Harrison, formerly of Fort Payne, now of Chattanooga, Tenn., who ran Howard out of the hog pen, and who afterwards fired at him to run him from the premises. The details of the statement in this affidavit cannot be published, as the United States mail regulations would forbid its passage through the mails. We also refer to Mr. S. J. Slaney. The affidavit was subscribed and sworn to before Mr. D. M. Agey, notary public, Chattanooga, Tenn."

Colonel Nicholson avers in the fourth place that Howard poses as the champion of a fair ballot and an honest count, and yet, in a recent election he gave a negro $5 and furnished him with a pair of brass knuckles to knock out W. T. Smith, another negro, who was an active and influential worker on the other side, in order to suppress him. W. H. Brown, the negro to whom the proposition was first made, swears to the facts as stated and relates further that Howard got the knuckles from him and made the deal with Tom Page, another negro, who did knock Smith down with them near the voting grounds.

Fred Holman, another negro, on oath, substantiates Brown's statement.

Then comes R. M. Huffman, a poor man and a workingman, who swears that Howard falsely swore he was not a member of the firm of Howard Bros., thereby saddling a honest debt due him (Huffman) upon his (Howard's) two impetuous and financially irresponsible brothers.

SEVERAL of the leading farmers of the county have asked us to call a meeting for the organization of the Agricultural and Live Stock Association. They say that much good will result from holding a meeting in the court-house once a month and devoting one or two days in relating experiences and observations as to the best modes of farming and raising stock. This meeting will probably be called during November or December.

GOVERNOR-elect ATKINSON is to be inaugurated Governor of Georgia to-day. With the retirement of Governor Northern, Georgia gives up one of the purest and most efficient Governors that State has ever had to serve as her chief magistrate.

ALL those who vote for the Democratic nominees for congress, this year will be qualified to participate in the Democratic primaries two years hence.

ASSAULTING RELIGION.

READ WHAT THE WOMAN'S NATIONAL UNION SAYS:

Then See What W. F. Aldrich, the Republican Candidate for Congress Believes.

In February, 1890, in Willard's Hall, in the City of Washington, there were held sessions of the Woman's National Union. "This Union is composed of those who believe that the Woman's Suffrage Association has not gone far enough into the matter of woman's wrongs." So says the account of the meetings.

The executive Committee of this "Union" adopted some rash and startling resolutions. Here is a sample of them:

"Resolved: That the Christian church, of whatever name, is based on the theory that woman was created inferior and secondary to man, and brought into the world, and caused the sacrifice of a Savior. That Christianity is false, and its foundation a myth."

"Resolved: That every church is the enemy of liberty and progress, and the chief means of enslaving woman's conscience and reason, and that therefore, as the first and most important step towards her emancipation, we should free her from the bondage of the church."

We ask the reader to stop, turn back, and read over again, and slowly, these astonishing resolutions. At first reading, the full force of their mischievous import will not be gathered.

Did you note these words: "CHRISTIANITY IS FALSE, AND ITS FOUNDATION A MYTH?" Do you endorse that statement?

Here is another sweeping declaration: "Every church is the enemy of liberty and progress, and the chief means of enslaving woman's conscience and reason."

"EVERY CHURCH"! This includes the Catholics; the Hebrews; the Episcopalians; the Christians; the Baptists; the Methodists; the Presbyterians; the Cumberland Presbyterians; and all others. A. A. all these good people engaged in the wicked work of "enslaving woman's conscience and reason?"

Who believes it?

Who is this that thus assaults "every church"? It is The Woman's National Liberal Union.

Mr. William F. Aldrich, of Alabama, was the temporary secretary of the meeting at which these monstrous utterances were made. He "read a number of letters from various parts of the country showing the interest taken in the movement."

"Secretary Aldrich read a list of committees, he himself being chairman of the committee upon organization, and his wife of committee on resolutions."

"Secretary Aldrich announced the following officers: President, Matilda Gage; Vice President, Mrs. Josephine C. Aldrich, of Alabama; Treasurer, Mr. W. F. Aldrich, of Alabama."

"Mr. W. F. Aldrich, of Alabama," then presented some observation on "public defenders." The speaker "advocated the employment of a set of 'public officials to be called 'Public Defenders.'"

The Mr. William F. Aldrich who figured so conspicuously in this assemblage of hatters of every church, and denouncers of our Christianity, is the same Mr. William F. Aldrich who is now a candidate for congress from the Fourth congressional district in Alabama. It was fitting that a man entertaining his views should have been nominated by Honorable William J. Stevens, a negro, for and in consideration of money in hand paid.

position are legitimate matters of inquiry.

He is a protective tariff republican. Therefore, he is not a proper man to represent a district composed almost entirely of men who are opposed to being taxed for the benefit of yankee manufacturers, and owners of coal mines.

He denounces "EVERY CHURCH." Therefore, he is not a proper person to represent in congress a constituency made up largely of Catholics, and Episcopalians, and Christians, and Methodists, and Presbyterians, and Baptists, and Hebrews, and Cumberland Presbyterians, and members of other churches, and men and women who do not belong to any church, but who believe that the churches of this Southland of ours are the very "salt of the earth."

No, no; Mr. Aldrich's views about Christianity, and about the churches do not suit this latitude. He brought them with him from his northern home; they will not flourish here. He cannot, and he will not go to congress. He is fooling away his time in making a canvass. He is fooling away his money, too.—Selma Times.

Speaker Crisp on Silver.

Speaker Charles F. Crisp is today one of the grandest men in the United States and the following from his home paper as to his position on the silver question will be of interest to all the readers of the Republican:

Everybody knows that the silver dollars in circulation are now money of final payment. The present status of those already coined is not the point at issue.

Between sound democrats like Speaker Crisp and hybrids like The Journal, there is however, a very serious issue, in that the mints have been closed to the free coinage of silver as money of final payment for the future, thus stopping any further increase of legal tender silver dollars. The gold bugs don't propose to reopen the mints to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, just as they are now open for gold, but Speaker Crisp does propose to restore the equality between the two metals by the free and unlimited coinage of silver, treating it in all respects just as gold is treated at the mints—without discrimination."

Under pretense of favoring "sound money," but in reality merely carrying out blindly the dictates of the English money power, the goldbugs in the Democratic ranks are discriminating against silver and are fighting against the reopening the mints to its coinage on any basis except that of an "international agreement," that they know is never likely to be reached.

Speaker Crisp and all true Democrats favor the restoration now of silver to the status it occupied prior to 1873 as regards its free and unlimited coinage into dollars of final payment, with international agreement if we can, without it if we must. The parity of the gold and silver dollar to be maintained by "such safeguard of legislation," as may be found proper when experience, after free coinage is resumed, shows what legislation, if any at all, is needed. That is Speaker Crisp's position and it is the position of all the Democratic party, except those north of the Potomac and the Ohio, and a few individuals here and there in the south and west, and it is the position that all Democrats will be compelled to assume if they stay in the Democratic ranks. The next campaign will be fought on the issue of reopening the mint now to free coinage of silver; the Democratic party favoring, and the Republican opposing it, and Democrats will have to "line up or go over to the opposition."

MR. DWIGHT L. MOODY, the noted evangelist, is now holding a meeting in Birmingham, and much interest is being manifested in his services.

The white men of the Fourth District are not yet ready for the negroes to meet and select a man to represent this District in congress.

DAVID B. HILL is making a gallant fight for the Governorship of New York, and while the party in that State is not as thoroughly united as it should be, we believe that Hill will be victorious.

THERE is no man in Alabama who is more in favor of pure politics than the editor of this paper. We hold that every man should have a right to cast his ballot as he desires, and that it should be counted as cast.

THE memory of the confederate dead, who gave their lives upon the battle field fighting the Republican party, should be enough to prevent any Southern man from surrendering principles which he has held dear all his life, by voting the Republican ticket.

THERE is a demand in every section of Alabama for Senator Morgan and Capt. Jos. F. Johnston to speak during the present campaign. This demand is so great that Calhoun had to agree to cancel the engagement for General Morgan to speak in Jacksonville next week. Capt. Johnston however will speak in the court house in Jacksonville next Wednesday, and the people in every portion of the county are urgently requested to come and hear him.

EVEN the opposition to Hon. Gaston A. Robbins admit that he properly represented his District. They can make no charge against his record. He voted to reduce the burden of taxation, he voted for the income tax; he voted for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. Then why leave him at home and send in his place a man who believes in the basic principles of the Republican party?

WE acknowledge the receipt of the first number of the Alaquan, a neat little paper published at Jasper, Ala., by Rev. S. P. West and Miss Bessie Mande Haley. It is published in the interest of Alabama Chatauqua Assembly. Up to the present session Miss Haley had been a teacher in the Jacksonville Normal school for several years. She is an easy and graceful writer; is gifted in newspaper work, and we expect to see her make the Alaquan a brilliant success.

THE most ridiculous thing heard in Alabama for many years is that Republican party is in favor of fair elections, when it is well known to all informed people that it has stolen everything politically, including the Presidency of the United States. The Southern people certainly have not forgotten the day when they as one man aided in the election of Samuel J. Tilden as President of the United States, and after he had been fairly and honorably elected by a majority of the electoral vote, and by a very large majority of the popular votes, that the Presidency was stolen from him, and Hayes counted in as President. Such an outrageous fraud as this was never perpetrated by any party.

THE men in the Fourth District who have claimed that they would stand by the men who stand by the people, can now with poor grace decline to vote for Gaston A. Robbins for congress. No man in the United States stood firmer by the people than Robbins, and why should any man who has the interest of his country at heart want to defeat him by the election of a life-long Republican who was placed before the people by being placed in nomination by Bill Stevens, a negro Republican of Calhoun, at a convention called by a negro of Dallas county. Let the white men of the Fourth District consider well before they decline to cast their ballot for Robbins on the 6th of November.
